BEATTIE TALKS OF THE BINFORD GIRL

Says He Was Tried for His Relations With Her.

VAIN HOPE FOR NEW TRIAL

Iron Nerve of Boy Murderer Unbroken By Thoughts of Impending Doom —Death in Electric Chair— Prisoner Cheerful

Chesterfield Court House, Va., Sept. 9.—Thought of impending doom—death in the electric chair on November 24th—did not break the steel-bound composure of Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., today as he spent his first day in a cell here as a convict for the murder of his wife.

In a matter of fact way he discussed the case with friends who called to express sympathy, but to the newspaper men he bitterly denounced the verdict as unfair.

Expecting that Judge Watson would not order his removal to the State penitentiary for several days, young Beattie began to make his cell more habitable. His window faces the country road and from it he can view all Chesterfield in its simple stillness. Newspapers, particularly those that feature sports, are sent to him daily and on these he lingers as he did during those fifty-eight minutes yesterday afternoon when twelve men were deciding his fate.

Beulah Binford—his relations with whom shocked the jurymen—was a frequent name on Beattie's lips today but she probably never before received as deep condemnation.

Time and again he complained that the jury had tried him for his relations with the girl of the underworld, rather than upon the circumstantial testimony pertinent to the tragedy.

A white haired man rode out to the jail today, jostled over three miles of a rough road from the nearest interurban station. As he entered the dim chamber where his convicted son stood, he pressed a kiss on his forehead.

It was at this moment, as in previous moments in the trial, that the fortitude of the boy crumpled and his face flushed, tears forcing their way from his eyes over his pale cheeks.

In the mind of the father and son still flickers one hope—the granting by the Court of Appeals of a new trial through a writ of error. But the prevailing opinion in Virginia's bar is that it is a vain hope.

In contrast to the peaceful scene in the jail was a little home in Richmond seventeen miles away where Paul Beattie, cousin of the convicted man, sat with his wife and babe, glad in his freedom from the weary days of detention as the commonwealth's principal witness, yet sympathetic for the man of whom he bought the fatal gun, all ignorant of the evil purpose that it was to fill four days later.

"What I did in testifying," said Paul "I did from a sense of duty. It was hard at first to nerve myself to telling all I knew, but am relieved that I have done it."

"Fearfully unfair," muttered the condemned man in his cell when asked his opinion of the verdict.

"Beulah Binford," he added, figured largely in the verdict, more largely than the testimony of the killing. These country folks cannot understand how a woman of the underworld can be crazy about you. They don't know when that happens how very hard it is to get rid of her.

"I have drifted along hoping against hope that something would occur to enable me to rid myself of that Binford girl. And once a woman of that kind feels that you no longer take any interest in her she usually seeks solace in suicide. So I drifted along waiting for a chance to break off relations with her without having her hurt herself. I tried hard to persuade her in the meantime to live a proper life.

"Had this case been tried in any court where these things are not uncommon this morning I would have been a free man. Interpreting Judge Watson's instructions to the jury, I cannot see how the verdict could have been other than 'not guilty.' I believe the jury was influenced by the one-sided newspaper reports before I had a chance to present my side of the case. I wanted to give out a statement as soon as I was arrested but Mr. Smith, my lawyer advised against this.

"I have not given up hope, because I cannot feel that an innocent man will be permitted to suffer for this hideous crime."

There were many rumors abroad today that Beattie would never die in the electric chair; that he would find some means of committing suicide when all hope of gaining his freedom was gone.

Billy Sampson, his chum, and one of the important witnesses at the trial was quoted as saying:

"Henry Beattie will not die in the chair. It will be some other way."

HARMAN OPENS THE CAMPAIGN IN MAINE

Ohio Governor Attacks President Taft's Attitude Toward Tariff Reform.

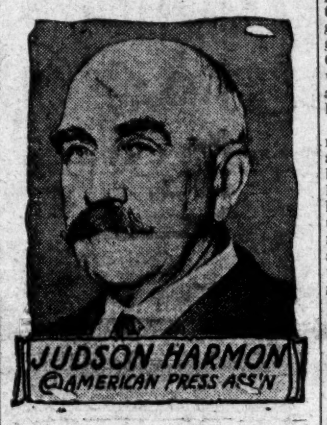
REACHED BY WRONG ADVISORS

Declares the President Needed No Commissioner to Make Promises To Break Them, Or to Call Special Session

Boston, Mass., Sept. 9.—Although rain forced the postponement of the open air barbecue planned for today at the opening of the Democratic campaign for the coming State election, the Democratic city committee quickly readjusted its plans and an enthusiastic gathering of Democrats listened to addreses by prominent members of the party in Faneuil Hall.

The chief guest and speaker was Governor Harmon, of Ohio, while speeches also were made by Governor Foss, of Massachusetts, Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, of Boston.

President Taft's attitude toward tariff reform was attacked by Governor



Harmon. He said that the President's course in vetoing tariff bills passed by special session of Congress indicated that he had been reached by "wrong advisors." Speaking of the President's objections to these bills he said: "These and other marks of paternity suggest the question whether the vetoes may not have been adopted offspring, like the defense of Ballinger."

"He needed no commissioner," said the speaker, when he promised a general reduction before his election, nor when he called the special session to keep the promise, nor when he signed the bill that broke the promise, nor when he confessed that the woolen and cotton goods duties were too high, nor when he made the agreement with Canada. His position is simply that those who by the rickery of tariff making have secured a license to impose exorbitant prices on the American people shall go on doing it, in spite of the action of both Houses of Congress, until five men who are not responsible to the people, nor even experts, shall advise him how much these favor taxes ought to be reduced and how to do it scientifically. He admits they are too high on these absolute and universal necessities of life, but he fears these bills may have cut them too much. All the men, women and children in the land must continue to suffer an admitted wrong which affects health and comfort rather than run any risk of causing too much shrinkage in profits made excessive by law. The people must not even have the benefit of the doubt.

"If the present tariff charges had been fixed merely without proper knowledge and skill it could well be said that an 'unscientific' remedy is good enough for an unscientific wrong, especially when those who apply the remedy have the advantage of dealing with actual results while those who did the wrong acted only on conjecture. But the Payne-Aldrich Smoot law had a far worse sire than ignorance. And it is a reflection on our plan of government to say that the flagrant iniquities of that law shall go on defying good sense, common knowledge and honest purpose until a commission without legal responsibility or authority shall decide how the duly chosen law making body may deal with them.

"I believe in the veto power. But it is to be employed only on the clear and positive conviction of the executive that the public interest so requires. He is allowed ten days to consider and decide. If he remains in doubt at the end of that time action of his part is dispensed with and the judgment of the legislative body becomes effective without it. For the President to defeat the action of Congress, especially when it follows the plain mandate of the country, merely because he is not certain about it himself and wants to wait for somebody else to advise him, is a new and perilous departure from the wise design of the consitution.

"We have had tariff commissions before but none of them ever accomplished anything but delay. And if time is money it certainly is to the beneficiaries of a favor tariff. The

THIRTY AMERICANS AMONG FUGITIVES

All are Methodist or Baptist Missionaries Save One.

GUNBOATS CAN'T REACH THEM

Uncle Sam's Ships Unable to Navigate The River In Vicinity of ChingTu Where Refuges are Thought To Be Living.

Pkin, Sept. 9.—For days no messages have been received from the hundred foreigners gathered at Ching-Tu, capital of Sze-Chuen province, for safety from the mobs which have been running riot in the surrounding districts for some time past. The Chinese viceroy ordered the foreigners to leave the city and it is belived they are now making their way toward the Yang Tse Kiang, about three hundred miles away, by cart or river thought a country where anti-foreign placards have been posted for many weeks.

It is understood the fugatives are under the escort of Chinese troops, but it is considered questionable if these troops would oppose their own people should an attack be made upon the foreigners. There are British gunboats on the Yang-Tse above the gorges which extend from Ichang to Chung-King. The American ships were ordered up river but were unable to proceed above Ichang, many hundred miles from Ching Tu.

The Americans among the refuges number thirty. With the exception of a representative of an American Tobacco company all are methodist or Baptist missionaries. Placards which have been posted in many places state that foreign bankers have been enriching themselves on the poverty-stricken Chinese. The most influential Chinese newspapers in Peking give unqualified support to the agitation in the provinces and petitions have been presented to the throne asking that the railway programme be recinded and that the provinces be permitted to construct the lines which have been projected by the government with the aid of foreign capital.

It is pointed out that a surrender on the part of the government would mean the gravest calamities. In the first place no railroads would be constructed as it has already been urged by the government that the provincial authorities are incompetent for such a task as well as corrupt. In the second place it would practically mean the terminaton of government control in the provinces, and, finally a reactionary relapse would be certain, which some of the legations believe would be the beginning of the Empire's downfall.

The flood situation in China is the most serious in years. From Hankow comes reports that troops are driving the flood refugees from the cities. The English papers in Shanghai say:

"We suppose that half the population of the Yang Tse valley must be supported through the coming winter or starve. Probably this is the most appealing disaster in the history of China."

BOTH SIDES CONFIDENT.

Maine Wets and Drys Both Looking for Victory in Monday's Election.

Portland, Me., Sept. 9.—The probable vote of the rural districts is the uncertain factor in all forecasts tonight of the outcome of special election to be held Monday upon the repeal of the liquor prohibition amendment of the Maine constitution. Both sides concede the cities to the repeal side, but the probable cote of the country districts was much in doubt and reports from those sections are contradictory.

Secretary Frederick G. Fassett, of repeal campaign organization, said tonight.

"I believe the prohibitory amendment will be annualld by a substantial majority. Men who have been out at work among voters estimate the majority at from ten thousand to twenty thousand and I personally believe that these estimates are reasonable."

Mrs. Lillian M. Stevens national president of the W. C. T. U. who has been the leader in the fight against repeal said:

"I expect now as I have from the first that we shall win a victory for constitutional prohibition in Maine. I don't believe the business men of Maine will vote to inauguarate a system that will bring the saloon in competition with their business life, and I don't believe that tax payers generally will adopt a plan that will raise their taxes and endanger their families."

The Whys and Wherefores of the Meeting That Didn't Mass.

WILL EDUCATE THE COUNTRY

President Taft Has A Great List of Subjects To Talk About on His Thirteen Thousand Mile Speaking Tour

Beverly, Mass., Sept. 9.—President Taft is going West to educate the country. His 13,000 mile swing around the circle that begins next Friday and winds up forty-six days later, is to be flavored as little as possible with politics and is to be as broadly instructive on vital questions of government as he can make it. The President intends to deliver a personal message to thousands who will hear him speak, a message like those he sends to Congress from time to time. He will take the government machinery apart and tell those who hear him, and those who read what he says just how things are run in Washington and what is needed there.

To the set speeches of the trip the President today added more than a dozen general subjects and this list may be increased. Two of the subjects, the President discussed today with callers, were those of a uniform divorce law, and trusts particularly with reference to the Supreme Courts Standard Oil Company and American Tobacco case decisions.

On the question of marriage and divorce the President has very decided convictions which have been strengthened by the numerous recent separations between well known people.

The President believes that a person who has been divorced in one State should not be allowed to remarry in another State. He regards re-marriages in such cases as bigamy and is of the opinion that through like legislation in all the States they can be prevented.

The President's position with regard to the Standard Oil and Tobacco decisions was explained by him in a speech at the Yale commencement exercises in June and he probably will expand upon the ideas there expressed. He thinks the decisions are good and remarked then that business should find in them a clear road to steer by.

86 HITS OUT OF 100 SHOTS.

The Report Attributed to Long Distance Firing by Dreadnought.

Newport News, Va., Sept. 9.—As the Deleware is still in Chesapeake bay no autheanic report of the result of the long distance firing by that battleship at the old San Marcos today could be secured tonight. At Old Point however, it is reoprted that the Dreadnaught registered 86 hits out of 100 shots fired, which is considered an excellent score under the conditions of the practice. The Delaware with the remainder of the ships of the Atlantic fleet are expected to return to Hampton Roads tomorrow morning from the practice grounds of the Virginia capes.

THREE YEARS FOR BRIBERY

Rodney Diegle Weeps When Court Passes Sentence Upon Him for Aiding and Abetting in Bribery Case

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 9.—For aiding and abetting in the alleged bribery of State Senator L. R. Andrews, a three-years penitentiary sentence today was imposed on Rodney Diegle, former Sergeant-at-Arms of the Ohio State Senate. Sentence, however, was suspended until September 18th, 1912, to allow the case to be carried to the Circuit Court.

The offense for which Diegle was convicted was charged against him following the disclosures of alleged grafting among the State legislators last Winter. Diegle was alleged to have been the go-between for the assemblymen. The bribes, it was charged, were offered by detectives in a room of a local hotel, while in an adjoining room other detectives and stenographers were secreted, recording the alleged bribery conversation through a telephone instrument called "The Dictagraph."

With Diegle nine members of the Legislature and one attache of the Senate were indicted. They were Senators Crawford, Andrews, Huffman, Cetone and Dean; Representative Lowry, Nye, Calvey and Evans and Staley Harrison, Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate.

Representative Evans pleaded guilty and was fined $500 and Representative Nye was acquitted at the trial. The others have not been tried. Surrounded by his lawyers, his face gray and sunken at times, at other times flushed, Diegle seemed a broken man.

After hearing the judge's sentence Diegle stumped forward in his chair and wept.

LITTLE GIRL MURDERED

Nude Body Found in Lake Monona After Search of Three Days

Madison, Wis., Sept. 9.—That little Annie Lemberger, the seven-year-old child whose body was found in Lake Monona today was murdered, is in the opinion of Dr. H. E. Purcell, and Dr. Joseph Dean, who made an examination of the body today. The physicians' opinion is based on the ground that there was absence of water in the lungs. A further examination also revealed that the child had been attacked.

In a nude and discolored state, the body was discovered today by George Younger, a laborer.

Practically the only clue the police have to work upon so far is a story to the effect that two Italians who appeared greatly excited purchased tickets for Chicago shortly after the crime is supposed to have been committed.

The only motive for the murder seems to be revenge upon her parents by some enemy at present unidentified. The child went to sleep with an older sister Tuesday night last. Wednesday morning the younger girl was missing from her bed.

KILLING IN ROBESON

Young Man Shoots Himself Either Accidentally or Otherwise

(By Long Distance Telephone.)

Lumberton, N. C., Sept. 9.—Sheriff McNeill was notified by 'phone tonight of a killing which occurred in Alfordsville township, about four miles from the State line, late this evening. The victim was Mr. William Small, aged 20 years, son of Gatewood Small. Particulars are hard to get but a later message tonight stated that the young man was at a house where there was a gathering of young people and that he shot himself. It was not stated whether the shooting was accidental or with suicidal intent. Deputy Sheriff Barnes and Coroner Rancke will go to the scene of the tragedy tomorrow morning to hold an inquest if necessary.

FOUSHEE GETS APPOINTMENT

Durham Man Commissioned as Judge of Ninth District—Text Book Adoption—Reward Offered for Assailant

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 9.—Howard A. Foushee, of Durham, wins the commission as judge for the Ninth District to fill out the unexpired term of Judge J. Crawford Biggs, resingned, to serve until the next general election.

The commission was issued this afternoon by Governor Kitchin and closed a sharp contest that has been on for nearly two weeks in which the friends of Mr. Foushee, Mr. A. A. Hicks, Oxford; Mr. A. W. Cook, Greensboro, and Jacob A. Long, Alamance, have striven determinedly for their respective candidates for the place. Mr. Foushee is a lawyer of recognized ability and has served with distinction in the General Assembly and has been for many years a close friend of Governor Kitchin. Indeed, Governor Kitchin declares that this appointment has been a source of very great embarrassment in that it forced the choosing of the judge from among the group of such true and tried friends as the candidates for the place comprised.

Governor Kitchin today issued the formal proclamation the law requires relative to the adoption of the public school text books to be used in the schools of the State for the next five years the work of adoption having now been fully completed by the State Text Book Commission of which the Governor is the chairman. The proclamation gives notice that the books have been adopted, the purchase and the exchange prices fixed and that the State Superintendent of Public Instruction will publish, according to law, the full list and the prices along with all detail information concerning contracts and the books adopted.

A reward of $250 is offered by the State through Governor Kitchin for the arrest of the unknown person who committed a murderous asault upon Gray Tolar and a criminal assault also upon the wife of Tolar on the night of September 2nd, near the town of McDonald, Robeson county.

JOHN JACOB ASTOR WEDS MISS FORCE

Ceremony Performed at the Colonel's Home at "Beechwood", Newport.

MINISTER WON'T DISCUSS IT

Declines to Make Public His Views on Marriage and Divorce Questions or to Even Comment On the Wedding

Newport, R. I., Sept. 9.—After having kept the country in doubt for several weeks, Colonel John Jacob Astor and Miss Madeline Talmage Force, of New York, were married early today at Beechwood, the bride groom's home here. The bride was given away by her father, William Force. The others present at the ceremony were Miss Catherine Emmons Force, a sister of the bride and Vincent Astor, the son of Colonel Astor.

Rev. Dr. Joseph Lambert, of the Elmwood Temple (Congregational), of Providence, performed the ceremony.

Fifteen minutes after the marriage ceremony had been performed Colonel and Mrs. Astor left Beechwood in an automobile for the boat landing at the foot of Wellington avenue. A few minutes later they were on board the yacht which sailed immediately.

Just before leaving Beechwood Colonel Astor gave the following statement to the Associated Press:

"Now that we are happily married I do not care how difficult divorce and re-marriage laws are made. I sympathize heartily with the most straight laced people in most of their ideas, but believe re-marriage should be possible once, as marriage is the happiest condition for the individual and the community."

Great secrecy surrounded the wedding plans and although many rumors had been current that the couple would be married today, it was not until the license was issued that the fact that the ceremony would take place today became actually known.

Just what part, if any, Edwin S Straight, the retired minister had in connection with the marriage could not be learned today. It is known, however, that Colonel Astor's bride was insistent upon being married by a clergyman who was in good standing and who had charge of a parish.

The application for the marriage license was made August 27th last. Before the license could be granted Colonel Astor had to file with the city clerk a copy of the papers in his divorce proceedings.

In the license he set forth that he was 47 years old, the son of the late William Astor, residence New York, and occupation, gentleman.

Miss Force declared she was 20 years of age, the daughter of W. H. Force, of New York, and gave her father's occupation as "forwarding and commission."

A message from Point Judith gave the information that the Noma, after passing down the bay, rounded Point Judith and steamed to the westward. This led to the belief that the bridal couple might be heading for Rhine Cliff, N. Y., where Colonel Astor has a country home.

Providence, R. I., Sept. 9.—Rev. Dr. Joseph Lambert upon his return to his home here today from Newport declined to discuss the Astor-Force wedding. Beyond stating that he had performed the ceremony Dr. Lambert said that he had no comment to make, an did not care to make public his views as to marriage and divorce questions.

A thick fog prevented either aviator from seeing the other until they were close together.

Miss Boisant was fast coming to the ground when she spied the other machine and with quick action shot up again and just managed to pass ground. Those who witnessed the over Seymour who flew lower to the ground. Those who witnessed the fast work of Miss Moisant loudly applauded her when she landed with scarcely a jar to her monoplane.

WAR FEARS UNIFOUNDED.

Sensational Reports of Moroccan Situation Not Worthy of Credence.

Berlin, September 9.—The financial paine which has been aroused in Germany through the delayed Moroccan negotiations has caused the government to issue in a number of provincial districts official notices declaring that the fears of war are entirely unfounded and informing the public that the sensational reports emanating from various irresponsible sources are unworthy of credence. Local officials have been ordered to post notices to this effect in public places.

Foreign Minister Von Kiderlin-Waechter also is reported as having given a reassuring statement to a leading financier this evening regarding the situation.

"There are moments when one wants to be alone;
Remembered, rather than seen;
When you can dream of deeds well done
And think of what might have been."

And this is one of them, for our baseball prognosticator. Everything went contrari-wise. The Y. M. C. A. didn't and the A. C. L. did. They made shavings of the oracle's foresight with the result that the last named bunch of atnletes slept last night secure in the knowledge that the City Championship was clinched, rivcted, locked and sealed, and that nothing remains in regard to the Tidewater Trophy but going after it.

The first comedy yesterday at the ball park was heart rending; the second was worse. 'Nff said! To begin with, the threatening weather, horse races, and the attractions of the piscatorial game kept the attendance at the park down to almost nil. When the first game was called there was not half a dozen to witness eight athletes of each team saunter out to the field to play the really deciding game of the season. Each team was compelled to call in the assistance of an outsider to complete their nines.

For four innings things went along pretty smoothly, as up to that time no runs had been scored and the Y. M. C. A. had made only two errors, as an earnest of what was to follow. But, ye gods and little fishes! the fifth! With the Boys' Brigade at bat Burnett was a quick out. Montgomery hit one to Duls which he fielded in fine style but the throw to first landed somewhere between right field and the lower end of the old bleachers, permitting Montgomery to take his time to second. From there h etraveled home when Ben Houston fell down on Mintz' grounder, Mintz going on to the second corner and reaching third when Jones joined the comedy trio with a bad handling of a thrown ball. Mintz scored when Jones came back with another error on Lacey's grounder, but Moore did not want to make it look too bad and went out on a high one to Honston.

In the next act, the Y. M. C. A. made a strenuous effort to further assist the Brigadiers, but the latter gentlemen were considerate and added only one more tally on the three misplays which aided them.

McEachern deserves the credit of pitching a steady game in spite of the poor support of his colleagues. He fanned five men, did not give up a pass, and until the seventh inning did not allow his opponents a hit. That was good work, and had it not been for those two bad innings, another tale might have been told. However, good-bye to pennant hopes for the Triangle Boys. We are some considerate ourselves, so will spare you the tabulated score.

The Second Game.

In the second session, not satisfied with the efforts of the Y. M. C. A. to discredit our prophecies, the Coast Line hammered our reputation for veracity to smithereens. They started it in the first round when "Skeet" Emerson led the procession off with a single past third, and they kept it up until the lowering twilight found the nine innings finally terminated and the victors unchallenged champions of the city.

To tell the history of the runaway match in detail would require a three-volume novel space; so we forbear. On the mound for the W. L. I. was a young man named Whitehead, whom we mentioned some time ago very favorably. Today we say nothing, following our policy to tell only the good about everybody.

The Railroaders put up theis usual classy exhibition, slamming out singles, doubles and triples with ceaseless consistency, running bases bewilderingly, and playing a snappy aggressive game on the defensive; while their opponents were sluggish, laggard, listless, useless.

Mr. Whitehead gave three passes, hit as many batters and uncorked a duet of wild pitches, and only four scattered hits to 13 gleaned off the first mentioned gentleman. Hines, of the A. C. L. aggregation mauled out a three bagger, the first of the season. The records of the other players, after mature deliberations are left off for various reasons, although some of them would not be ashamed to see it in print. And, by the way, the score was 14 to 1 in favor of the Coast Line.

Hardly a Compliment.

A vicar was taken ill and his church warden sought a substitute, when the bishop of the diocese offered to take the Sunday services himself. The church warden at the close of the service went up to the bishop and after thanking him stammered out: "A poorer preacher would have done for us, your lordship, but we were unable to find one."

New York, Sept. 9.—Brooklyn and New York played a nine-inning tie game today on a wet ground. The rain fell most of the time throughout the game. Crandall was hit freely but only one run was scored against him during the 3 1-3 innings that he pitched. Brooklyn scored once off Wiltse in the fourth and twice in the seventh. Rucker settled down after the opening session and pitched a great game. The Giants tied it up in the ninth when Merkle beat out an infield hit, stole second, went to third on Herzog's sacrifice and scored on Fletcher's sacrifice fly.

Detroit, Sept. 9.—Ty Cobb's sacrifice fly in the fifth scoring Stanage, resulted in the only run made in today's game with Chicago and decided a remarkable pitchers' battle between Mullin and Scott. A triple play in the fourth—the third made on the local ground this season—resulted when Drake raced in, captured Tannehill's short fly and retired Bodie and Bergl hamer, Busch to Gainor.

Science and Art.

Science and art are in spirit the same, and they must be pursued with the same ardor. The scientist, like the artist, must be ready to do anything and go anywhere to get in touch with masters in his chosen field. He must deem no sacrifice of time or money too great to secure a real mastery of the technique of his profession. It is through weakness in technique that much of our science presents so amateurish an appearance.—Richard C. Maclaurin, in the Atlantic.

RACING MEET COMES TO END

Free-for-All the Feature of Yesterday's Events on Local Track—Won by Alfonso, of Bennettsville, S. S.

Though the rain poured down in the city and kept many people away from the track, weather conditions were almost perfect at Highwood Park yesterday afternoon and the final day's events of the Pee Dee Circuit Racing Meet were carried out with all circumstances favorable except in attendance.

Alfonso, the rangy looking bay horse, owned and driven by W. R. Drake, of Bennettsville, S. C., captured the feature race of the meet, the free-for-all, in three heats, first place in the other two going to Dan P., owned and driven by Burnie Smith, of Marion. Dillon Gentry, a handsome little roan stallion, owned by J. B. Gibson, of Dillon, took first money in the other race, a 2:40 trot or pace. Both events were hotly contested, and the spectators in the grandstand manifested marked enthusiasm over some of the close finishes.

As on the two preceding days, another accident occurred yesterday, but by the good luck that has characterzed all previous mishaps, neither the horse nor his driver suffered any injury, though the sulky was damaged considerably and put out of commission. In the fourth heat of the free-for-all, on the first lap, on the turn just beyond the quarter, Miss Jarvis, driven by P S. McClellan, of Wilmington, lost her footing in some manner and turned almost a complete somersault, throwing the driver out of the cart. Mr. McClellan arose at once but the horse was entangled in the harness and could not get up. She was held quietly until the other horses had passed on the second lap, and then was unhitched and allowed to get up. She did not enter the race again.

With Dan P. and Alfonso fighting for every inch of ground, the free-for-all race was probably the most spectacular harness event ever witnessed in this city, and the close finishes brought the spectators to their feet cheering in a frenzy. Up until the last heat was finished the race belonged to either Dan P. or Alfonso. Dan took the first heat and seemed in a fair way of winning the second also, but Alfonso by a wonderful burst of speed overtook and passed him just at the turn into the home stretch. On the third heat Dan P came back strong and finished several lengths ahead of the Bennettsville horse, but Alfonso captured both the fourth and fifth, giving him first money.

Dillon Gentry, who won the 2:40 event, drew the pole in the first heat and held it throughout the whole race, practically never being headed. The little horse put up a wonderful exhibition and under the guiding hand of Lon Edwards, of Dillon, seemed just as fresh at the end of the third heat as before starting the first. Though he did not walk away from the field he was always just far enough ahead to prove tantilizing to the other horses. Practically a green horse, having raced only a limited number of times, the little roan promises to make one of the best horses in his class in North or South Carolina.

Seven horses entered the 2:40 event and all of them finished, while six entered the free-for-all and five finished, Miss Jarvis being withdrawn after the accident in the fourth heat.

The results for the afternoon were as follows:

Free-for-All—Purse $300

First Heat—Dan P., Burnie Smith, Marion, first, time 2:14 1-4; Alfonso, W. R. Drake, Bennettsville, second; Dolly Dillard, Quince Berry, Marion, third; Marguerite, L. Edwards, Dillon, fourth; Miss Jarvis, P. S. McClellan, Wilmington, fifth; Sandy Hal, Mack Godwin, Wilmington, sixth.

Second Heat—Alfonso, first, time 2:15 1-4; Dan P., second; Sandy Hal, third; Marguerite, fourth; Dolly Dillard, fifth; Miss Jarvis, sixth.

Third Heat—Dan P., first, time 2:13 1-4; Alfonso second; Marguerite third; Sandy Hal fourth; Miss Jarvis fifth; Dolly Dillard sixth.

Fourth Heat—Alfonso first, time 2:14 1-4; Dan P., second; Marguerite third; Sandy Hal fourth; Dolly Dillard fifth; Miss Jarvis fell and did not finish.

Fifth Heat—Alfonso first, time 2:15 1-4; Dan P., second; Marguerite third; Sandy Hal fourth; Dolly Dillard fifth.

First money won by Alfonso, with three first and two seconds; second by Dan P., with two firsts and three seconds; third by Marguerite, with three thirds and two fourths; fourth by Sandy Hal, with one third, three fourths and one sixth.

2:40 Trot or Pace—Purse $150

First Heat—Dillon Gentry, J. B. Gibson, Dillon, first, time 2:39 1-4 Ned, R. B. Cannon, Dillon, second; Virginia Guard, G. M. Hardin Raleigh, third; Minor Wilkes, W. R. Drake, Bennettsville, fourth; Argot Prince, H. J. Bardin, Lake Waccamaw, fifth; Lady Cleveland, Mr. Parsons, Watha, sixth, Highwood King, P. S. McClellan, Wilmington, seventh.

Second Heat—Dillon Gentry, first, time 2:39 1-2; Ned second; Virginia Guard third; Minor Wilkes fourth; Lady Cleveland fifth; Argot Prince sixth; King Highwood seventh.

Third Heat—Dillon Gentry, first, time 2:39 1-4; Minor Wilkes second; Virginia Guard third; Ned fourth; Lady Cleveland fifth; Highwood King sixth; Argot Prince seventh.

Dillon Gentry took first money, with three firsts; Ned second, with two seconds and one fourth; Virginia Guard third, with three thirds; Minor Wilkes fourth with one second and two fourths.

A running race was gotten up at the track during the afternoon and provided considerable amusement for the spectators, for it proved to be more of a walk-away than a race. Burgaw Queen and Bardin's Special essayed to contest for honors in a half mile event, the Burgaw horse finishing some hundred yards ahead of the other animal.

After the race Minor Wilkes was put up and sold at auction, being bid in by Mr. J. B. Gibson, of Dillon, for $190. This price was considered remarkably cheap by those who know the horse. Minor Wilkes is only six years old and has a mark of 2:40. He promises to make a splendid track horse, with the proper training.

AFFAIRS AT STATE CAPITAL

Bank of Shallotte Chartered—Railroad Assessments — Leaf Tobacco Sales—Auto Accident—Temperance Drink—Notes

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 9. — The Bank of Shallotte, Brunswick county, is chartered with $25,000 capital subscribed by Thos. E. Cooper, J. W. Brooks, and others, for general banking business. There is also a charter for The Pamlico Land Co., of Bayboro, for general real estate development, the incorporators being H. B. Stevens of Asheville, and others, and the capital $200,000 authorized and $2,000 subscribed.

General Counsel Watts and W. L. Stanley, of the legal department of the Seabard Air Line, headed a delegation of officers and counsel appearing today before the Corporation Commission in opposition to the tax valuation that the Commission has assessed against the property of the Seaboard in this State. The Seaboard has joined with the Southern and Coast Line in opposition to the amount of the re-assessment of railroad property on the ground that it is excessive compared with the tax value made against the real estate generally in the counties in which the railroad lines operate. Counsel for the Seaboard argued today that the increased assessment against the Seaboard would necessitate the payment of $70,000 more taxes annually by the company in North Carolina than ever before and that this would be a destructive burden to the "infant industry" in addition to being unjust as compared with real estate assessments generally.

Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. Graham goes to Montgomery, Ala., September 12th for a conference on commissioners of the cotton States as to the status of the cotton crop in the South.

The Department of Agriculture issued today a statement of the leaf tobacco sales on the various markets of the State for the tobacco year ending August 1st, the total being 121,083,841, compared with 157,628,841 for the previous year. The sales by markets the past year follow: Winston-Salem, 23,084,865; Wilson 10,544,584; Greenville 8,028,295; Kinston 7,058,747; Oxford 6,310,309; Reidsville 5,638,777; Roxboro 5,378,304; Henderson, 4,906,723; Rocky Mount 4,848,663; Durham 4,967,964; Mount Airy 4,429,949; Louisburg 2,499,904; Farmville 2,192,490; Stoneville 2,276,326; LaGrange 2,309,651; Burlington 2,094,809; Madison 1,822,754; Warrenton 1,738,625; Creedmore 1,781,398; Smithfield 1,543,126; Snow Hill 1,482,996; Greensboro 1354,812; Apex 1,215,530; Fairmont 1,426,408; Goldsboro 1,016,270; Mebane 908,651; Fair Bluff 1,314,614; Youngsville 832,433; Richlands 805,639; Robesonville 781,816; Fuquay Springs 757,333; Warsaw 601,939; Williamston 598,898; Ayden 532,225; Pilot Mountain 471,785; Zebulon 452,301; Wendell 425,513; Washington 397,504; Statesville 325,526; Leaksville 296,413; Clinton 336,257; Ahoskie 267,572; Lumberton 265,174; Enfield 176,419; Milton 145,840; Dunn 91,743; Clayton 45,266.

Mayor James D. McNeill, of Fayetteville, has been notified by State Food Chemist W. M. Allen that the samples of "No Tax," the "Temperance non-alcholic beverage" on sale in his town he believed, to evade the prohibition and anti-near-beer laws of the State, has at least one-half of one per cent. of alcohol in it and that it is a violation of the State law to sell it in North Carolina. Mayor McNeill was here with the samples early in the week and declared his purpose to suppress its sale if the analysis gave him the right to do as he believed it would. Capt. McNeill occupies the unique position of being an outspoken opponent of State prohibition and at the same time being a mayor who is especialy energetic in enforcing the prohibition law to the very letter. "No Tax," which he has just caused to be a subject for outlawry in this State, is a product of the Portner Brewing Co., Norfolk, and is claimed by its makers to be strictly non-alcoholic and in conformity with the North Carolina prohibition regulatins and with the general pure food acts of the State and Nation. Its fate under the ruling of the State food chemist will be watched with interest.

The Raleigh Police Commissioners will hold an election of chief of police September 21st. However, there is general expectation that J. P. Stell, the present chief, will be re-elected practically without opposition.

News from the bedside of little Emma Hamilton, the nine-year-old daughter of Ralph Hamilton, who was run down last afternoon by a touring car driven by Henry C. Bridgers, of Tarboro, is that she is doing as well as could be expected and that she will recover unless internal injuries of a more serious character than have yet been detected in examinations by the physicians develop. S. W. Brewer, prominent merchant of this city, who saw the accident, expresses the opinion that while careless or wreckless driving cannot be charges, still he thinks the accident might have been avoided.

In connection with the hearing given the Seaboard Air Line Railroad Co., today by the Corporation Commission as a State Tax Commission in complaint of the railway company that the tax assessments against the railroads is excessive compared with the assessment on real property generally there were seven witnesses examined as to tax valuations in the case from New Hanover, Durham, Moore, Mecklenburg and Chatham counties. For New Hanover, H. F. Wilder and W. M. Cumming testified that valuations in that county were 60 per cent. of the money value with considerable difference of opinion as to what really the money values are. For Durham county Sheriff J. F. Harwood and Mr. Elliott testified that in Durham county property assessments for taxation were around 60 per cent. value. State Senator D. A. McDonald, for Moore county, testified that while valuations had been raised 25 per cent. the assessments are now not more than 60 or 70 per cent. of money values. For Mecklenburg county A. W. Brown testified that the tax assessments will not average over 40 or 50 per cent. of money values. For Chatham Maj. H. A. London estimated that property assessments are about two-thirds of the money values.

WHITEVILLE NEWS NOTES

Court Adjourned—Colonization Projects—Other Items of Interest

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., Sept. 9.—Court adjourned yesterday the jail being cleared of all cases for trial, and the civil docket was reduced. It is said that never, in the history of our county were so many cases disposed of in so short a time. The chaingang received a number of new recruits, and which were needed on our roads.

Missie Marlowe and Robert Granger, the white woman and man convicted of the Grists killing, are still in jail, their cases being appealed to the Supreme Court.

Last evening we had a very heavy rain and several buildings in town were flooded. No harm was done to crops, as but little cotton was open. The plants are taking on fruit very fast and the crop will be backward about maturing. This is a good sign, for it shows the crops are not prematurely forced by the drought.

The correspondent of The Star, yesterday, through the kindness of Hon. J. A. Brown, was carried through the Chadbourn Colony. It was indeed an interesting sight, the beautiful homes, all nicely furnished, with organs or pianos, and large libraries. All of the colonists express themselves as well pleased, and say they would not sell their lands at $100 per acre. Such citizens are a valuable addition to any community. We saw one family that had made it's way through the country in a wagon, starting with a basof chicks just hatched but on reaching this county they were grown to flying size and ready for the table. Chadbourn is certainly a live and hustling little city and improving very fast.

Mr. R. E. L. Brown's health has improved so much that he will not return to Hendersonville, as expected, but has again gotten down to business. There is not a finer or more universally popular gentleman in Columbus county that Mr. Lee Brown.

Many farmers are holding their tobacco in expectation of an advance in price. The present price of the weed is very satisfactory, and farmers are preparing to plant a very large acreage in tobacco next year.

Lands around the new colony town of Artesia are being bought up, and the place is again on a boom. This place was first settled by European immigrants, and who got discouraged and abandoned their property; after doing considerable work, but others are moving in to take their places.

Bears are said to be again numerous in Green Swamp and they are killing many hogs. Hunts are being organized to thin these "varmints" out again.

A movement is on foot to greatly improve the shores of Lake Waccamaw. A number of tourists who visited that delightful resort this Summer have been so charmed with it that they contemplate buying lots there and improving the same.It is proposed to girdle the Lake with an automobile road, and erect a palatial hotel on its shores, which will be both a Summer and Winter resort.

The Council-Tool Co., at Wananish, is running on full time, to fill orders. They are shipping not only to the turpentine regions of the United States, but to Mexico and India. This is one of the most important enterprises in the South and successful too.

Solicitor Sinclair has returned home, but those who talked with him while in Whiteville say it is a foregone fact that he will be in the race for Congress in this district. The friends of Hon. J. A. Brown, of Chadbourn, say they intend to put him in the race whether he consents or not.

Friends of Senator Simmons are arranging to get up a big meeting in Columbus county and invite him to attend and address the people. Our voters are divided between Simmons, Aycock and Kitchen. Many old-line Democrats are working for Simmons, as they say the party owes him a great debt of gratutude for his magnificent work in the days of fusion. But Governor Aycock has strong workers also, who are sawing wood and saying nothing.

MAXTON NEWS NOTES.

Big Educational Rally—Better Sanitary Drainage—Other Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Maxton, N. C., Sept. 9.—Circulars have been issued announcing an educational rally to be held in St. Paul's Methodist Church Wednesday morning that will probably decide the fate of Carolina College. The Board of Trustees which is to meet here Tuesday night will reorganize and hopes to begin active work on the building at an early date. If the people of this section of the State respond as they should the $15,000 subscription by two men of the town on the condition that the town give another $5,000 is now available. The $5,000 was quickly subscribed but owing to some complications in the business affairs of the college, the $20,000 was not paid at the time but will be paid as soon as the organization is completed. Capital already invested in the buildings and grounds is approximately $40,000.

A meeting of citizens of the town was held Thursday to consider more sanitary drainage of the town. It was thought by many that sanitary conditions would be improved if the mill pond on the southeast outskirts of the town, which was emptied by the breaking of the dam in the recent freshet should not be refilled. The mill is owned by Messrs. A. J. and A. C. McKinnon and they presented a proposition to the town, stating that they would not rebuild the dam, if the town would drain that section. The proposition was accepted and a ditch five feet deep is to be dug from the Seaboard railway to a point about a quarter of a mile below the McKinnon pond.

The union meeting being held here closed Friday night. This meeting was attended by large crowds throughout the two weeks and is said to have been the most successful evangelistic meeting ever held in Maxton.

There was a cutting affray between two negro men in town Thursday. One was cut rather severely and the other knocked in the head with a brick. They were brought before the Mayor Friday and fined.

In the Sewing Room.

A convenience for the sewing room is a wooden panel with rows of wire nails driven into it and spools of thread put on the nails. If it is hung near the sewing machine and the work basket the desired number of thread may be quickly found.

A FATAL MISTAKE.

B. B. Massenburg Of Louisburg, Drinks Quantity of Formaldehyde.

Louisburg, Sept. 8.—Mistaking formaldehyde for some other drug, Mr. B. M. Massenburg of this city drank a sufficient quantity of that poisonous fluid yesterday to cause his death five minutes later. His mistake was discovered immediately and every medical attention was rendered, but to no avail.

Mr. Massenburg entered the store of the Aycock Drug Company and passed on behind the prescription counter. All of the clerks were in the front part of the store and in a few seconds after Mr. Massenburg disappeared behind the counter they were startled by his cries. They rushed to his assistance and found him in a dying condition, investigation proving that he had mistaken the formaldehyde for some other medicine.

Mr. Massenburg was 61 years of age. He is survived by a wife and large family.

Forced to Leave Home.

Every year a large number of poor sufferers, whose lungs are sore and racked with coughs, are urged to go to another climate. But this is costly and not always sure. There's a better way. Let Dr. King's New Discovery cure you at home. "It cured me of lung trouble," writes W. R. Nelson, of Calamine, Ark., "when all else failed and I gained 47 pounds in weight. It's surely the king of all cough and lung cures." Thousands owe their lives and health to it. It's positively guaranteed for coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, croup—all throat and lung troubles. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at R. R. Bellamy's.

THE LAST EXCURSION OF THE SEASON
—TO—
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., SEPTEMBER 18TH.
—VIA—
The Atlantic Coast Line and Winston-Salem Southbound Railway
—FROM—
CHARLESTON, S. C., COLUMBIA, S. C. and WILMINGTON, N. C. and Intermediate Stations.

The Atlantic Coast Line offers a most remarkably cheap and delightful trip to Winston-Salem—"The Land of Health"—Monday, September 18th. A rare opportunity will be given to visit this beautiful city at a cost that is a mere trifle. There is no use in trying to catalogue it's attractions. The residences, set in miniature parks, exhaust adjectives of delight. Only a visit can tell the story. WinstonSalem is rich in the attractions that appeal to those who would flee to the cool hills and enjoy a complete change of air and scenery. Hundreds of families consider this their Summer home, and when the warm days come turn here without thought of any other place on earth.

"There is a reason." Here is HEALTH, REST, CHANGE; REJUVENATION. It's the Land of Out-o'-doors. It simply rests the weary and refreshes the weak.

The fare for the round trip from Wilmington is only $3.75. Tickets will be sold for regular trains September 18th, limited to return on any regular train up to and including September 20th. SEE BILLS.

FREE TO YOU—MY SISTER

Free to You and Every Sister Suffering from Woman's Ailments.

I am a woman.
I know woman's sufferings.
I have found the cure.

I will mail, free of any charge, my home treatment with full instructions to any sufferer from woman's ailments. I want to tell all women about this cure—you, my reader, for yourself, your daughter, your mother, or your sister. I want to tell you how to cure yourselves at home without the help of a doctor. Men cannot understand women's sufferings. What we women know from experience, we know better than any doctor. I know that my home treatment is safe and sure cure for Leucorrhoea or Whitish Discharges, Ulceration, Displacement or Falling of the Womb, Profuse, Scanty or Painful Periods, Uterine or Ovarian Tumors, or Growths; also pains in head, back and bowels, bearing down feelings, nervousness, creeping feeling up the spine, melancholy, desire to cry, hot flashes, weariness, kidney, and bladder troubles where caused by weaknesses peculiar to our sex.

I want to send you a complete ten day's treatment entirely free to prove to you that you can cure yourself at home, easily, quickly and surely. Remember, that it will cost you nothing to give the treatment a complete trial; and if you wish to continue, it will cost you only about 12 cents a week or less than two cents a day. It will not interfere with your work or occupation. Just send me your name and address, tell me how you suffer if you wish, and I will send you the treatment for your case, entirely free, in plain wrapper, by return mail. I will also send you free of cost, my book—"WOMAN'S OWN MEDICAL ADVISER" with explanatory illustrations showing why women suffer, and how they can easily cure themselves at home. Every woman should have it, and learn to think for herself. Then when the doctor says—"You must have an operation," you can decide for yourself. Thousands of women have cured themselves with my home remedy. It cures all old or young. To Mothers of Daughters, I will explain a simple home treatment which speedily and effectually cures Leucorrhoea, Green Sickness and Painful or Irregular Menstruation in young Ladies, Plumpness and health always results from its use.

Wherever you live, I can refer you to ladies of your own locality who know and will gladly tell any sufferer that this Home Treatment really cures all women's diseases, and makes women well, strong, plump and robust. Just send me your address, and the free ten day's treatment is yours, also the book. Write to-day, as you may not see this offer again. Address

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months, $1.50 for three months, 50 cents for one month, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Cfrolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, or if paid cash in advance a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper.

Advertisements discontinued before expiration of contracts are charged transient rates for time actually published. Payment for transient advertisements must be cash in advance. Contract advertisers will not be allowed to exceed their space at same rates, or advertise anything foreign to their regular business without extra charge. Advertisements to occupy special place will be charged for according to position desired.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

The straw hat is beginning to look like it has seen better days.

A married woman thinks her husband is perfect so long as he acts like he has a can tied to him.

There are a whole lot of people in Virginia who are now satisfied that the times are entirely out of joint.

Cheer up! You can look good to somebody if you do your best to keep from looking like the picture of misery.

Don't indulge in a sardonic grin but cultivate the art of smiling. It will be better for you and you won't give anybody else the "cold creeps."

In the Beattie murder trial it seems curious that Paul should have had all th fits to start with and Henry should catch all the fits to end with.

Where three or four are gathered together with fishing poles, there also is tempation fully prepared to embrace Prevarication after the manner of hugging a delusion.

Col. Bryan calls Democratic Leader Underwood "a parquet statesman." What the Colonel wants is for all the balance of them to be gallery gods and approve the way he runs the show.

From the laconic utterances of the Greensboro News we get this: "Pulling fodder is unprofitable business." Whot cares to waste time pulling fodder when there are so many legs to be pulled?

Henry Clay Beattie discounted the intelligence of the public when he conceived that it would see that rough bearded highwayman just as he pictured him shooting his wife instead of taking a crack at him.

un. Texas paper observes: "The ma-inity of the people undoubtedly un-viet-tand the issues before them." cit- vertheless, it would be better for em to understand the patriots who re before them as the exponents of the issues.

A contemporary remarks that "Henry Clay Beattie is a pitiful example of the danger of love." Editors should not slander love by mistaking it for infatuation. Love dwells in the heart but infatuation has its abode in the vortex of a brain storm.

It is announced that Ex-Senator Aldrich is going to reside in Washington. With the prospect of a Democratic administration, the Rhode Island statesman is only one of a few who will be attracted to the beautiful American capital. Watch Washington grow.

Says the Houston Chronicle: "The Texas Commercial Secretaries' Association has just published a keen little booklet entitled 'Texas Needs Great Men'. Of course, she needs them, but no North Carolinian is going to Texas just because he could satisfy her needs.

The best thing to do about fads—moral, religious, social and political—is to keep your shirt on and refrain from throwing up your hat with a yell till its efficiency is clearly demonstrated by common sense and experience. Don't be a fan for anything till you absolutely know that it is equally as good as baseball.

At a park frolic in New York a contest was opened for girls under 20 years of age. We venture nothing in the conjecture that every woman in the crowd rushed up and got in the push in spite of the facts and the evidence. There is nothing so game as a woman when she is determined to prove that she is one of the girls.

THE RICE INDUSTRY

The South produces millions of dollars worth of rice and that chief of all cereals is imported to the amount of many millions more, principally from Japan. This country ought not to import a peck of rice, for in every Southern State from North Carolina to Texas there are millions of acres of land peculiarly adapted to the production of the world's highest grade of rice.

The premier of all rice is "Carolina rice," a product of the tidal regions of the Carolinas. Years ago right around Wilmington on the Cape Fear river and its tributaries rice growing was conducted on a large scale, and once in the city there were two rice mills, one of which at least turned out thousands of barrels of the finest rice that ever went on the American market. However, the mills ceased business and the rice industry dwindled, or else rice growing waned and the mills went away from the rice fields. At any rate the industry now exists on a small scale, as the product has to be sent to Georgetown, S. C., to be milled and barreled for market.

Rich rice fields hereabouts have grown up in weeds and bushes, the ditches have filled and the flood gates are no more. We have seen in some of these now abandoned fields, rice crops that would produce from 60 to 100 bushels per acre with the crude methods then employed in its cultivation. There are yet some fine rice fields that are turning in a fine profit to their owners, but practically speaking this region no longer ranks as a rice growing country. That is a shame, too, for there is no more suitable region for the industry than that which lies all around us. However, we let ourselves get behind on methods, and the main rice growing country is no longer in the Carolinas but in Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas.

Our rice industry flourished so long as rice culture everywhere depended on the rice field darkey, but when the southwestern area was drained and dyked on a large scale and machinery largely took the place of the darkey, the industry in the Carolinas had to disappear in the face of modern rice growing in the no finer lands of Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas. What today is a magnificent industry anywhere is liable to disappear from the face of the earth if the people do not keep pace with progress. It all depends upon doing it just like the other fellow or in just a little better way than he does.

Shall we ever witness a revival of the rice growing industry in eastern North Carolina? If not, why not? It is a profitable industry when carried on right and the southwestern growers have demonstrated that it is not even necessary to grow rice in the fields to which we used to be accustomed on the Cape Fear. Lands away in the interior can produce good rice and plenty of it, and if our farmers will go back to it they will revive one more profitable feature of agriculture. We ought to do it for the reason that Cape Fear rice has no equal and because it can be grown on a profitable scale as seed rice. Theer is a large demand for Carolina rice for seeding purposes, as r. DeLancey Evans, the government rice expert, once told us that the farmers on the Cape Fear could make a big industry of it by growing seed rice for the countries where rice grows luxuriantly but not of the quality of the old Cape Fear article.

The New Orleans Picayune tells us that rice growing has very greatly increased in the South because the demand for rice is largely in excess of the supply. That is one of the reasons why most any quality of rice is high. In the southwest the growers are not only increasing their production but the big rice companies are even advertising abroad and at home in order to induce people to eat rice. People who do not know that rice in some shape is good for every meal are behind the times, but it is a fact that some people have to be educated up to it. The Louisiana growers and millers, therefore, are exploiting the merits of rice in big advertisements.

The advertisers tell the world that rice originated in East India and is now grown over the whole tropical and sub-tropical world. The Japanese even raise it on mountain slopes and we are their customers while having right around us the best rice lands in all the world. There are more than fifty varieties of rice, and the Louisiana advertisement states that Carolina rice is regarded as the best of all.

In order to encourage the eating of more rice, the Louisianans who are exploiting it emphasize the fact that rice is more nutritious than wheat, rye, oats, corns, beans, potatoes, fat beef or lean beef. There is as much food value in a pound of rice as there is in three pounds of potatoes or in one and one-tenth pounds of beef. A bowl of rice for breakfast is as nutricious as two eggs and a couple of strips of bacon. A bowl of rice is more sustaining than a pound of juicy steak. Rice is the easiest of the cereals to digest, being completely assimiliated in one hour while it requires three hours or more to digest white wheat bread. A man can flourish on two pounds of ric ea day, but so far as we are concerned we could eat that much at one sitting, when stewed chicken and dumpling go along with it. The Richmond Journal is making a summary of the advertisement exploiting rice says:

"It seems strange that a staple food on which nearly one-half the world lives should have to be advertised. Some of the statements in the advertisements are not new, but one in particular will be a surprise to many people who eat rice regularly, that is that the hull, which is threshed from the grain and which you see occasionally in the best cleaned rice, is a good and nutritious part of the plant. This company declares that rice-eaters make a mistake in wanting the rice white with all the hulls removed.

"The hull taken away from rice is fed to cattle in the shape of bran. It is just as nutritious as the rest of the grain. Rice contains a smaller amount of flesh-forming substances, and a larger amount of fat-forming or heat-giving substances than any other grain. It is almost a cure for dysentery and other bowel complaints indedendently, of which it is a sufficiently nutritious food without being heating."

We feel sorry for people who have to be told about rice. Most everybody ought to know that rice and fried chicken, or rice, eggs and ham gravy, or rice and any kind of hash, or stewed beef or mutton, is a sure cure for wrinkles. Rice flour makes the finest muffins that ever went with Jersey butter, and rice battercakes and waffles promote happiness and contentment. Rice with milk and sugar beat all your corncob breakfast foods, and rice wafers, rice pudding and a dozen other dainty and delicious dishes constitute only a part of the merits of rice. To know rice right is to love it and be true to it.

THE BEATTIES AND THE BINFORDS.

Let the curtain fall on the Beatties and the Binfords. The end of the Richmond tragedy, when Henry Clay Beattie shall have gone to the electric chair for the murder of his wife, is enough of nauseating drama in actual life.

A Virginia jury which heard the evidence and passed upon the facts, declared that he is a common murderer—the heartless slayer of an innocent, unsuspecting, wronged and outraged wife. To all his infamous treatment of young Mrs. Beattie, he added the horrible deed of taking her life for the sake of one who was even unworthy of her least thought.

The Binford girl may herself have been the victim of great wrong by Henry Clay Beattie himself, but the innocent, trusting, wife because the helpless sacrifice of the vice for which she was in no way responsible. Henry Clay Beattie is nothing but a common moral criminal and a wife murderer—the wrecker of one woman and the murderer of another. As such he should be allowed to go to the electric chair and forfiet his life to Virginia and to society at large. There is no need to picture the leper in the films at the motion picture shows in the refined and cultured cities of this country. Let the electric current cut the circuit and turn off the lights when the wretch is seated in the chair to meet the horrible death to which he brought himself.

As for Beulah Binford and Paul Beattie, they hastened away to the motion picture photographers and the vaudeville footlights in New York e'er the sentence of death had been pronounced upon the chief tragedian. Paul Beattie is willing to make a shocking exhibition of himself while the life of his relative hangs in the balance, while the Binford girl gave a disgusting illustration of heartlessness and depravity when she abandoned her erstwhile lover to his fate and hurried to New York to pose for motion pictures! She is hardly less a monster than the man who murdered his wife for her sake only to be deserted by her when the coils of death were being fastened around him. Who wants to see the picture of the tigress slinking away from its hapless mate?

There is no wonder that there is a revulsion of common decency at the thought of dramatizing and reproducing the tragic Virginia trial in the theatres of the country. What refined person would care to seek entertainment from such a spectacle of depravity? The noble women of the W. C. C. T. U. of Louisville, at a meeting on Friday, pledged themselves to use their utmost endeavors to prevent the appearance of Beulah Binford upon the stage. Resolutions were adopted condemning her "effrontery," and it is enough to say that it is hoped that there is not enough of depravity in the country to make up profitable audiences for those who would traffic in the pictures of vice and degradation for the sake of gold. Public morals would best be conserved by the total eclipse of Beaulah and the suppression of her pictures.

SENATOR BAILEY'S RETIREMENT

Senator Bailey's retirement from the United States Senate, after his term shall have expired in 1913 as one of the United States Senators from Texas, has caused widespread comment throughout the Republic. The Texan is generally conceded to be the ablest man in the Senate, with an intellect and equipment towering over all, but there is a difference of opinion as to the Senator's party loyalty and the spotlessness of his public career. He has strong defenders among the ablest men and newspapers in the South and North but it appears that his detractors are many.

In a great many particulars we have admired the Texas Senator, and in but few can we find cause to condemn him. So far as his Democracy and statesmanship goes, times will vindicate that he was right. Nevertheless, it is admitted that he is out of line with the so-called progressive Democracy, and it is also admitted that the progressive Democracy seems to have things all its own way. Of his decision to retire the New Orleans States says:

"Realizing that he is not in touch with the progressive spirit of the Democratic party, and that he is too much of a reactionary to view it with even a feeling of tolerance, Senator Joseph W. Bailey, of Texas, anpounces that he will not be a candidate for re-election to the Senate next year. This is as it ssould be. He is no longer a leader in the Senate, and he enjoys today the confidence and support of less than half a dozen of his Democratic colleague. All things considered, his decision to retire from the Senate is a wise one, but it is safe to say that it will evoke no expressions of regret from the Democracy of the nation, which, for several years, has regarded him with suspicion and disgust. Between now and the close of his present term we are likely to see Senator Bailey devoting his talents more openly to the service of the great interests, and also to making as much trouble as possible for the Democratic party. Once out of the Senate, he will continue to serve the interests in other ways than as a senatorial agent, and they, in turn, will see that he is well cared for."

Some say Senator Bailey got from under for fear he could never again carry Texas, but the strong probability is that he could have again won the Senatorship. However, it would involve a terrific fight and personal sacrifice on his part and it would rend the Democratic party of his State. He may have decided, on that account, not to run again, but we rather think it was just as our New Orleans contemporary remarks, that he did not care to return to the Senate and be out of line with the majority of his party there. The party no doubt has gotten away from him, but it will sooner or later wish it had remained in his neighborhood.

Democrats are getting to be such optimists that they can go through an entire performance without raising a single note of alarm.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Kansas seems determined to make it pleasant for the commercial traveler. Not only were bed sheets lengthened at his request, but an inspector of beds has been appointed to see that he gets all his bites in the dining room.—Richmond Journal.

And in the lesson taught the dry summer has been worth all it has cost those farmers who were not prepared for it—provided they will profit by it in their future efforts.—Greensboro News.

Of course South Carolina is not going to come to blows with Uncle Sam because South Carolina's laws forbid the operation of special trains on Sunday and Uncle Sam wishes to move troop thains on Sunday. When the South Carolina law, aimed at Sunday excursions, was enacted there was no thought of troop trains, and differences can doubtless be settled without loss of blood or dignity, or forcing South Carolina's commander-in-chief to lead an assault upon Washington.—Columbia State.

Not many years ago Chesterfield, Horry and Lexington were not ranked among the prosperous counties of South Carolina. Before the abolition of slavery, a county having a large preponderance of negroes and great plantations was wealthier than a county having a white majority composed of small farmers. After the War Between the Sections a number of years passed before the people of thse counties with numbers of poor white people began to get on their feet, but the progress that they are making now is the strongest kind of demonstration that South Carolina needs more white people. Some of the counties that head the list in point of fertility of soil and natural wealth are lagging by comparison with Chesterfield. —Columbia State.

Duplin county was settled by a superior type of men and women and they have always believed in ducation, religious and the virtues that make the best population. That county is now moving to secure a farm-life school and the best Duplin spirit is aroused. Letter from Mr. M. H. Wooten, county superintendent, says that Cypress Creek township is solid for the school, that Mr. George Parker, one of the most progressive men in the State, offers $10,000 in an elegant site for the building, and that Mr. Gaston Houston, another of Duplin's prominent citizens offers $1,000 in cash, and thus the good work goes on. This is the sort of Duplin spirit that makes every Duplin boy or man proud of his native county, no matter where he lives.—Raliegh News and Observer.

OAK RIDGE OPENING

Best Institution Has Ever Had—The Enrollment.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Oak Ridge, N. C., Sept. 9.—The opening of Oak Ridge Institute, was the largest it has ever had; in fact, all rooms were engaged in advance of the opening date, a situation unparalelled in the history of this school. The principals have made arrangements for much additional room. Nearly 200 students were enrolled within 24 hours of the opening. Parents who have not reserved room, wishing to place their sons here after date, should wire or write before sending them, so that there will be no disappointment.

INDULGING IN RECALL TALK

Opinion Frequently Expressed That Movement Will Not Materialize — Two More Names Come Off The Committee.

There were no developments of consequence yesterday in connection with the movement for the recall of the Mayor and Councilmen. Copies of the petition put in circulation some days ago for signatures are still being handed around for names and it was said last night that while it could not be stated definitely it was thought that something over 100 additional signatures were secured during the day, making a total of something over 800 and lacking less than 100 having the number leaders of the movement have figured will be necessary to secure the recall, basing their calculations upon the vote for Mayor in the primary two years ago.

The opinion was frequently expressed on the streets yesterday that the movement would die before it materialized. Ahy number of persons supposed to be allied or in sympathy with the movement declared that they are not only against a recall but if given an opportunity will vote to return the Council to the man.

From a person pretty close to Woodus Kellum, Esq., word came yesterday that Mr. Kellum has not changed his position in regard to the recall; that though he took a hand in the meeting Friday night, in fact did the steering stunt, that he is opposed to the presentation of the recall petition unless the Council, 60 days hence, orders the enforcement of the sanitary can ordinance, which was suspended for that Mr. Kellum would was intimated that Mr. Kellum would use his influence, in fact is already using it, against an immediate recall of the Council, and that by holding the dissatisfied ones off for 60 days there will really be no occasion for removal of the present officials.

On the other hand, K. C. Sidbury, Esq., who appeared to be leader of the forces at two of the mass-meetings and who took a prominent part in the last one as well, is said to hold out for immediate recall and expects to carry the petition to the Council at the regular meeting Tuesday afternoon if the required number of signatures have been secured by that time, otherwise the petition will be held until some time later. It is understood that it is Mr. Sidbury's idea to go carefully over the several copies of the petition and ascertain for a certainty that there are sufficient number of qualified electors thereon before turning the document over to the Council. This, it is pointed out, will take some little time and may not be done by Tuesday.

There was more discussion yasterday as to the number of signatures necessary for the recall, the law being somewhat obscur in meaning, as follows: "A petition signed by electors entitled to vote for a successor to the incumbent sought to be removed, equal in number to at least 35 per centum of the entire vote for all candidates for the office of Mayor at the last preceding general primary election," etc. Whether this means the primary election held this year or two years ago is the question. If it means the primary held this year, then it means the aggregate vote of every candidate in the field, 24 in number, for all were out for the office of Mayor. It would be impossible to secure signatures of qualified electors equal to 35 per cent. of the aggregate vote. The leaders of the recall mevoment have assumed that the section has reference to the primary election two years ago when there were only two candidates. If the law does mean two years ago,then what primary election will it refer to 10 years from now? is a question that has been asked. One of the leading lawyers of the city was discussing the matter yesterday and gave it as his opinion that the section is void, the meaning being too obscure; that the only thing that could be done is for the courts to give an arbitrary ruling, taking into consideration the intent. However, this is crossing a bridge before arriving at it and is a matter to engage the attention of the Council when the petition is presented.

Constable W. B. Savage stated yesterday that he desired it said that his name was placed on the committee to carry around a recall petition without any authority from him; that he has not and will not serve; that he does not believe in a recall, though he is not in favor of everything that has been done by the Council and the health department. Mr. Savage said that as he is a public officer he did not think his name should have been presented and voted upon unless he had been consulted.

Mr. James M.. Hall stated last night that the placing of his name on the committee was unauthorized and that he did not have time to serve, being busy with his own business. He said that a copy of the petition was sent to his store yesterday morning, but was taken by Mr. Charles O. Russ and is being circulated by him.

This makes three of the committee to circulate petitions who have declined to serve, the other one being Brooke G. Empie, Esq., as stated in yesterday's paper.

MANY GUESTS AT OCEANIC.

Hostelry Proves a Delightful Retreat During the Hot Wave.

Wrightsville Beach has been an exceedingly popular place during the hot wave of the past week. The Oceanic Hotel has a large number of guests for this season of the year and it is likely this number will remain about the same until the close of the popular hostelry about October 1st. Guests are at the hotel from different parts of this and other States as well as from Wilmington. They are finding it very pleasant at the resort and declare that they could not have selected a more beautiful season of the year to visit the beach. Fishing is splendid at the beach now and guests at the Oceanic have been having splendid luck.

BACK FROM THE FACTORY.

Mr. W. D. MacMillan, Jr. Agent For Studerbaker Corporation.

Mr. W. D. MacMillan, Jr., local distributor for the Studebaker Corporation, returned yesterday from Detroit, Mich., where he has been the guest of General Manager Walter E. Flanders, of the Studebaker Corporation—E. M. F. Factories. Mr. MacMillan joined the Studebaker Special Train at Washington City, arriving in Detroit on Tuesday morning where he spent two days inspecting the E. M. F. Factories and enjoying the hospitality of Mr. Flanders, the great automobile manufacturr. He speaks in glowing terms of the trip, especially of the hospitality of the Studebaker corporation.

"I was not the only guest of Mr. Flanders", says Mr. MacMillan "In fact, I was one of the party of dealers from this section who were personaly invited to go to Detroit and inspect the factories the company have for turning out Flanders "20" and E. M. F. "30" Cars.

"I understand the Studebaker Corporation is spending over $75,000 in entertaining all its dealers in a similar fashion.

Special trains are running from various sections of the country to Detroit and back, and every item of the dealer's expense is paid from the time he leaves home until he returns. The object, of course, is to show their manufacturing facilities and how they produce quality cars. Mr. Flanders told me that one object he had in mind in bringing me to Detroit was to convince me that the Studebaker Corporation actually will be able to produce in the coming season the 50,000 cars it has promised its dealers, During the past twelve months, as everybody knows, we have been unable to get more than one car for every four we could have sold—nevertheless the company was turning out 100 cars per day. I was permitted to look over the records at Detroit, so I know that I got my full quota. In short, we were not the only ones who were in a similar position, there are many others.

"I confess that until my visit to Detroit I was just a little skeptical of the ability of any company to build 50,000 automobiles in twelve months. I had expressed that skepticism in a letter to Mr. Flanders personally and his response was—"come and see." And he provided a special train of such sumptuous appointments and are not surpassed by those on which railway magnates travel on their inspection tours. There was every comfort that heart could desire—and the stomach was not overlooked. We had aroyal good time at Detroit. We spent one day in the big Plant No. 1 where E-M-F "30" cars are made; and we spent a day in a still larger one, Plant No. 3, where Flanders "20" Car is made from the pig iron to the complete, fully equipped car.

"We are going to try to give you as many automobiles as you will be able to sell,' said Mr. Flanders.

"After walking for hours at a time through great lanes of machinery and seeing millions of dollars worth of stock in process of manufacture. I am thoroughly convinced that we will be more nearly able to meet the demand for Flanders "20" and E-M-F "30" cars next year than we have ever been before. Of course, that is not saying we will get enough.

MAKING STEADY PROGRESS.

Trade Extension Movement is Attracting Much Interest.

With the territory thoroughly covered with the advertising of the Wilmington merchants in the Trade Extension Movement, and continued efforts to make purchasers in the smaller towns and country familiar with the free proposition, great interest is being manifested and the progress so far has exceeded the most sanguine predictions.

Purchasers from far and near are visiting the city daily to take advantage of the splendid offer. The promptness and accomodating methods of the Association are proving a strong recommendation to attract traders in general to the city. As expected the wholesale division has proven the most successful up to the present time, but a concerted effort is also made in the interest of retail trade and doubtless better results will be secured next month.

Members of the Trade Extension Association are requested to bear in mind "Settlement Day", which has been agreed upon by the Southern National Bank and the secretary for the tenth of each month. The first month's fares will be collected from the members tomorrow and prompt setlement will be necessary.

Permits for New Buildings

Permits have recently been issued by Chief Chas. Schnibben, of the fire department, for the erection of three large storage warehouses, work on which have already been begun or will be in a short time. Twe warehouses are to be erected on property of the Wilmington Compress & Warehouse Co., to be used by the cotton exporting firm of Alexander Sprunt & Son. Elliott & Elliott, of Hickory, have the contract and the work was begun some time ago. The third storage is to be erected by the Seaboard Air Line and will be similar in size and construction to the several warehouses which the railroad already owns. The buildings will be ready for use this Fall. It is estimated that the three will cost about $150,000. They will be within a short space of each other, in the vicinity of Nutt and Brunswick streets.

Will Be Married Today

Mr. Charles Bellman, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Miss Katie M. Fields, the divorced wife of Mr. J. P. Hopewell, will be married at 5 o'clock this afternoon at St. Paul's Lutheran church. Rev. Dr. W. A. Snyder, the pastor, will perform the ceremony. Friends will learn with interest of the marriage.

ANOTHER BANK AT SHALLOTTE

Wilmington and Brunswick County Citizens Are the Incorporators —Charter Issued Yesterday— $25,000 Capital

As will be noted by reference to the Raleigh correspondence of today's Star, a charter was granted yesterday by Secretary of State to the Merchants' & Farmers' Bank, of Shallotte, N. C., one of the thriving towns of Brunswick county.

The incorporators, it was learned last night, are Messrs. Jos. W. Yates, Thomas E. Cooper and J. W. Brooks, of this city, with Messrs. R. W. Davis and E. H. Cranmer, of Southport, and that the bank will begin business in the very near future. The capital is $25,000 with the privilege of beginning business when $10,000 is paid in. At present the stock is divided as follows:

J. W. Brooks, Wilmington, 115 shares.
Jos. W. Yates, Wilmington, 20 shares.
Thos. E. Cooper, Wilmington, 10 shares.
Robert W. Davis, Southport, 10 shares.
E. H. Cranmer, Southport, 10 shares.

While these are the incorporators and each has subscribed for the number of shares set opposite their respective names, it is understood that Mr. Brooks is to divide his stock with friends in all sections of the county, especially at and near Shallotte, where many of the largest and most substantial farmers and business men of the county reside. Mr. Brooks' acquaintance in the county is large and he enjoys the unbounded confidence and esteem of everyone. With his phenomenal success in the mercantile business in this city, it will be a pleasure to his friends in the county of his nativity to know that they will have an opportunity of being associated with him in this new and promising enterprise. Messrs. Yates and Cooper, of this city, are among Wilmington's leading young business men and each has wide experience in banking, Mr. Yates being one of the vice presidents of the Murchison National Bank, of this city, and Mr. Cooper being cashier of the American National, of this city, as well as president of several banking correspondents of the American throughout this State and South Carolina. Messrs. Davis and Cranc. Southport, are too well known as successful attorneys and business men to need commendation to the citizens of Brunswick county.

With the merchants and farmers of Shallotte, Lockwoods Folly, Waccamaw and other townships interested in this new enterprise, its success should be assured from the very first.

FOUGHT IN JUSTICE'S OFFICE.

Messrs. Walter Sneeden and J. C. Vereen the Combants.

Messrs. J. C. Vereen and Walter Sneeden had a narrow escape from a brief confinement in the county jail for contempt of court yesterday afternoon as the result of a personal encounter in Justice Harris'office just after the latter had been arrested by Constable Savag for assault on the former at the Front street market house a little earlier in the afternoon. Justice Harriss made out a commitment and would have sent both to jail until 6 o'clock in the afternoon had he not been touched by the appeals of the defendants themselves and by one or two of their friends who interceeded in their behalf. Both were recognized for their appearance Monday.

It was about 3 o'clock in the afternoon when Messrs. Vereen and Sneeden had a personal difficulty at the market house and Mr. Vereen went to Justice Harriss' office and secured a warrant for Mr. Sneeden, who, he claimed, had struck him a severe blow in the face. Arrested by Constable Savage Mr. Sneeden was escorted to the magistrate's office. Soon after he entered, Mr. Sneeden was referred to by Mr. Vereen as a "dirty scoundrel," whereupon the former struck the latter a blow in the face, making the second he had received during the afternoon. Constable Savage was standing near and placed both men under arrest.

UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

Messrs. Platt & Haar Lease Part of Store for Millinery

Realizing the importance of an up-to-date millinery department in connection with their business, Messrs. Platt & Haar, of No. 9 North Front street, have leased to Mrs. C. W. Leighton a portion of the second floor of their building for the purpose of conducting such a department.

This department, together with the art and drapery departments, will occupy the east half of the second floor and the combination of the three will serve to make them a mecca for Wilmington shoppers.

Mrs. Leighton, formerly of Richmond and New York, has had 14 years' experience in both wholesale and retail millinery stores and feels prepared to serve the ladies of Wilmington the right goods at the right prices. The first shipment of Fall creations are on display and others are to follow daily. The date for the Fall opening will be announced later.

While the millinery department is a separate establishment from the business of Messrs. Platt & Haar, these gentlemen will be delighted to have all of their customers to call on and patronize the new department.

Marine Engineers Vote Thanks

At a special meeting of the Marine Engineers' Association No. 71, held last evening, by unanimous vote it was decided to adopt a resolution congratulating the promoters of the new marine railway that is under construction here, and generally appreciating the efforts of the gentlemen who are interested. The engineers feel sure that it will be a great success with such men as Messrs. Bailey, Love and Stone behind it, and they also feel that it will be of great importance in the commercial growth of the port.

MAY CLOSE DEAL THIS WEEK

Next Move in Sewerage Question up to the Bondholders — Iredell Meares, Esq., Goes to Confer With Them.

Iredell Meares, Esq., attorney for the bondholders of the Wilmington Sewerage Company, will leave this evening for Philadelphia, where he goes to confer with the bondholders' committee relative to the negotiations now pending between the city and the bondholders for the purchase of the existing plant for incorporation in the proposed municipal system. There is a probability that the deal for the plant will be closed this week, though it is possible that concessions will have to be made by both sides before a final adjustment of the matter is agreed upon.

It is for the purpose of considering the amendment of the city to the proposition of the bondholders, the especial matter being provision that the bonds the bondholders purpose to issue to build an adequate plant shall not be sold for less than par, that Mr. Meares goes to Philadelphia. Whether or not the bondhouders will agree not to sell for loss than par is a question. That they will agree to arbitrate the value of the present plant and allow the city to reserve the right to buy, if it so elects, at the arbitrated price and relieve the bondholders of the obligation to build additional sewers as proposed, seems to be pretty certain. The following is the resolution adopted by the City Council last week and to which a reply is now awaited from the bondholders:

"Resolved. That the proposition of the Wilmington Sewer Company and its bondholders' committee, submitted to the city and proposing to arbitrate the present value of the plant at which to be incohporated in a larger system and to furnish not exceeding $350,000 for the construction of additional sewers, which sum is to include the arbitrated value of the present plant, be accepted, with the proviso that the city will reserve the right, after the arbitration has been had to buy, at the arbitrated price, if it so elects, and relieve the Sewer Company of the obligation to build additional sewers as proposed; and, with the proviso, that the bonds proposed to be issued by the company be not sold at less than par, except after conference with the city and its concurrence.

"Rsolved further, That the city attorney, if this amendment to the proposition is accepted, be direct with the Council of the bondholders' committee to prepare the necessary legal instruments for signatures by the respective parties and the draft of such papers will be submitted to this board for final approval."

Mr. Meares suggested to some of the Councilmen yesterday that it would be to the city's advantage to accept the proposition of the bondholders to build a completed system because then the city could take over the existing plant within the next 30 days and begin to make new connections, which would decrease the number of surface closets. The city could give the bondholders a mortgage on the plant, present and prospective, for $350,000, which would be a lien on the property, without waiting to complete the enlarged system. Mr. Meares thinks that the city could get probably 1,000 new connections by January 1st.

It is very probable that a member of the bondholders' committee will return to Wilmington with Mr. Meares and that an effort will be made to finally settle the question this week. The people want sewerage, there is a crying need for it in different parts of the city, and the hope is frequently expressed that this public utility will soon be provided.

NEW PASTOR ARRIVES

Rev. H. C. Bowen Will Preach at Christian Church Today

Rev. H. C. Bowen, formerly of Belhaven, has arrived to assume his duties as pastor of Dock Street Christian Church, to which he was called recently, and will fill the pulpit today both morning and evening. Mr. Bower is a consecrated minister and able preacher and the church considers itself fortunate in having secured him as pastor. Mr. Bowen is editor of the Carolina Evangel and is a forceful and talented writer. He was pastor of Belhaven Christian Church until recently when he resigned on account of his health. Besides his pastorate at Belhaven Mr. Bowen had charge of churches at Savannah, Ga., Winston-Salem, Cincinnati, Ohio, as well as at other points. Mr. Bowen and family will be given a cordial welcome to the city.

TO REOPEN JOYLAND

Mr. E. J. Reilly and Associates Have Purchased Playhouse

Mr. E. J. Reilly, the well known moving picture and vaudevine theatrical manager, and associates, have purchased the Joyland Theatre, on Market street, and after thoroughly renovating the same and enlarging the stage, will open the house on Monday, September 18th. Mr. Reilly announces that he will offer to the public at popular prices first-class vaudeville and moving pictures with full orchestral accompaniment. The house will be put in first-class condition throughout and Mr. Reily will make a strong bid for public patronage.

ROAD FORCES INCREASED

Result of Yesterday's Session of the Recorder's Court

As a result of yesterday's session of the Recorder's court the county road force secures an increase of two negroes, one for six months and the other for 15 months, besides a number of minor cases were disposed of. Arthur Dingle, colored, was found guilty of the charge of stealing a valuable brooch and other pieces of jewelry from a guest at the Seashore Hotel during the Summer and was given six months on the roads. Dingle was a waiter at the hotel at the time of the theft. He was arrested at Marion, S. C., a few days ago and some of the jewelry was found in his possession. Major Charles, colored, received a total of 15 months on the roads—12 months for the larceny of a pistol from Mr. S. D. Bryant and three months for carrying a concealed weapon.

Billie Tapp, Stella Dorsey and Bessie Tally, denizens of the underworld, were required to pay $10 each and costs for disorderly conduct, while a similar charge against Maud Martin was dismissed. Lena L. Burns was found guilty of larceny, but judgment was reserved until Monday. Joe Pea was assessed $5 and costs for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Viola Tyson was required to pay $10 and costs for a similar offense.

MAY PREVENT THE FIGHT.

Wolgast-McFarland Boxing Contest May be Barred by Sheriff.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 6. — The Wolgast-McFarland ten-round no-decision boxing contest scheduled for September 15, here, will not be permitted, if Sheriff William A. Arnold, Socialist, of Milwaukee county, can prevent it.

Match-maker Frank A. Mulkern, of the National Athletic Club, says the bout will be put on according to programme, and there will be no interference.

Two of the Socialist aldermen are indignant at the course taken by the sheriff.

Sheriff Arnold in an interview tonight says the contest will not take place, as he has an opinion from District Attorney W. C. Zabel in which that official cites the statutes governing "prize flights."

"Of course mere boxing or sparring matches," says the district attorney, "are not illegal and is not illegal at common law, unless carried to such an extent as to cause seious injury to one of the participants, and so conducted as to amount to a breach of the peace.

"From the information that I have been able to gather on this coming event I learn that Ad. Wolgast is the so-called light-weight champion prize fighter; that McFarland also lays claim to such distinction in that profession; that Wolgast is to receive fifty per cent of the receipts of admission and is guaranteed at least $15,000, while McFarland is to receive 28 per cent. of the gate receipts; that a large number of the sporting fraternity from San Francisco, Chicago, New York and other cities, expect to attend this contest.

"My information leads me to believe that the coming event contains all the necessary elements to make it a prize fight such as is prohibited by law."

Match-maker Mulkern in a statement says he believes the district attorney and sheriff must have been misinformed, as it was never proposed to hold anything more than a boxing contest such as has been decided in Wisconsin courts to be legal.

Locating Mahogany Trees.

Mahogany trees can be found only with great difficulty and by expert woodsmen. The trees do not grow in clumps, but are widely scattered and hidden by the underbrush. The woodsmen climb the loftiest trees and thus locate them by their peculiar foliage.

Juvenile Misapprehension.

"Papa," whispered Johnny, who was in attendance at the Sunday morning services, "why do the people look so sad when they drop their money in that plate?"

..Theatrical..

"Through Fire and Smoke," a great Selig film, will be the feature at the Grand Theatre tomorrow. This is said to be the greatest fire picture ever reduced to moving pictures and it will no doubt draw a large crowd at each performance. There will also be two other pictures and Mr. Danford will sing, "The Palms," one of the favorites in his large repertoire and one that is sure to please his audiences.

At the Bijou

It was a great bill the Bijou offered its big army of patrons yesterday. It was one of most novel, entertaining and instructive ever presented in a moving picture theatre. The Bijou also gives Wilmington amusement lovers the opportunity of witnessing the new films as soon as they are placed on the market. In other words, the film manufacturers so arrange it that films are shipped from their factories several days in advance, but are not released at the time of shipmen. They are released to all picture theatres in the country at the same time Tomorrow the Bijou will inaugurate another big week, one that it promises will be the most delightful yet. Many moving picture surprises will be sprung during the week.

Good Roads and Sanitary.

The Good Roads and Sanitary Association, colored, together with the citizens of Wilmington will hold a mass-meeting at Central Baptist Church, corner Seventh and Red Cross streets, this afternoon at 4 o'clock, for the purpose of receiving report as to the road to Pine Forest cemetery. The information will be given by Councilman P. Q. Moore who is in charge of the streets and wharves. The Star is requested to say: "There has been and is still much doubt in the minds of the people as to the certainty of the road despite the fact that they have received assurance—private and public—from those in authority that the road will be built. It is incumbent upon them, therefore, that each and everyone be present at this meeting and hear the details given by Councilman Moore. Dr. Stiles, of the U. S. Marine Hospital and Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, city superintendent of health, will also speak to the people."

Knocker.

"One thing about Jinx; he never comes into one's office without knocking." "Another thing about Jinx is that he never goes anywhere without knocking."—Houston Post.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 9.—Eddie Hearn driving a Fiat car, won the 200 mile automobile road race here today, while Johnny Jenkins in a Cole car, finished first in the 150-mile event.

Six accidents marred the day's sport, to the extent of throwing the contestants out of the race but with the exception of bruises and sprains, none of the drivers sustained injuries that are likely to prove serious. Fully 20,000 persons saw the races.

COTTON CLOSES AT DECLINE

General Selling Develops and Prices Begin to Drop, the Market Closing at Nearly Fifteen Points Off.

New York, Sept. 9.—General selling developed in the cotton market this morning undr which prices declined to nearly 15 points on some positions, closing barely steady at 5 to 14 points decline. The opening was steady at 3 decline to 1 point advance, following unsatisfactory Liverpool cables and a little scattered selling by room traders who had carried cotton over night in the hope of a good response abroad. The early decline was later increased to a matter of 10 points net loss under rather liberal selling for New Orleans, Liverpool and continental account but the market was supported by leading bulls and rallied quite sharply at the end of the first hour. Any permanent improvement was arrested, howevr, by the weak developments in the stock market which were followed towards noon by heavy Wall Street selling and a renewal of aggressive bar pressure by room traders who hav felt for some time that the market was scheduled to sell considerably lower but were restrained in their oprations by the apparent strength of the bull interests. Prices gave way rapidly under this heavy selling and failed to show any later rally.

Receipts at the ports today, 28,887 bales against 17,596 last week and 21,089 last year. For the week 175,000 bales against 132,826 last week and 169,453 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 996 bales against 412 last year.

Spot closed quiet, ten points higher; middling uplands 12.00; middling gulf 12.25; no sales.

Futures opened steady and closed barely steady.

STOCK PRICES CRUMBLE AWAY

Attack Renewed With Increased Vigor and Recent Gains Lost—Issues Sinking to August's Low Point.

New York, Sept. 9.—The attack on stocks for the last few days was renewed today with increased vigor. Prices crumbled away until active stocks which had not already fallen to the low point of the year relinquishd what remained of recent gains and virtually the entire list of prominent issues sank below the low point of the August decline. The list of new low records includes the Hill, Harriman and Gould shares, Reading, Lehigh Valley and Baltimore and Ohio among the railroads, and U. S. Steel, Amalgamated Copper and American Smelting among the industrials, together with many lesser known issues of both classes.

It was generally accepted today that liquidation was in progress again on a fairly heavy scale. Weakness due to this movement was accenturated by bear selling.

Foreiwn selling again was an important factor. London sent over a lower range of quotations before the opening here.

The stock market was heedless of the day's developments which were in the main favorable. Predictions of a further increase in the amount of the United States Steel Corporations unfilled orders were borne out when the figures for August 31st were made known as the market closed. A steady improvement is business conditions was recorded in the weekly trade reviews.

Bonds were heavy. Total sales par value $1,208,000. United States bonds advanced 1-8 on call in the week Total sales stocks for the day were 405,600 shares.

A Catastrophe.

A cat was being chased along the roof of a New York building. It lost its balance and fell on a boy who was standing on a balcony on the second floor. The startled boy fell in his turn, landing on a baby carriage, fortunately empty, which another boy was wheeling in the street. The first boy dislocated his wrist; the cat was killed.

Pride in the Family.

Tip heard one dark-skinned citizen call another a liar, and looked around to see where he might hide when the razors began to fly. But there was no carving. Instead came this prompt answer: "'Deed, I is a liah, but I'se de onliest liah in mah family, and yore whole family iz liahs." Right there the argument ended.

Marvelous Mechanical Work.

A Berlin inventor has succeeded, after years of toil, in making an artificial man who can walk, make all movements, speak, sing, laugh and whistle. It is a life-size figure and so natural an imitation as to be completely deceptive a yard away. "Occultus," as the figure is named, obeys words of command such as "march" and "halt," and he answers any question put to him. It is not an illusion or a trick, it is a piece of pure mechanical work.

Laws in Primitive Times.

Throughout the dark ages of Europe an accused person had to carry a piece of red-hot iron for some distance in his hand or to walk nine feet barefooted over ploughshares at white heat. The hand or foot was bound up and inspected three days afterward. If the defendant had escaped unhurt he was pronounced innocent. If he had been burned he was declared guilty.

MOBS STORM THE HOSPITALS

Rumors That Cholera Patients Are Inoculated With Poison Causes Wild Scenes in Stricken Chiasso, Switzerland.

Chiasso, Switzerland, Sept. 9.—Savage excessives have been committed as a result of the Cholera epidemic now raging in Italy, in Gioia Del Colle, a town of 20,000 in the Italian province of Bari Puglie, according to official reports received here.

The disease is said to have reduced the inhabitants of the town to a condition of desperation. The authorities in an effort to stamp out the infection ordered that all persons attacked by cholera should be taken to hospitals and that those who have been in contact with cholora victims be isolated in a neighborhood building.

Convinced that it was the intention of the authorities to kill the patients and also those under observation a crowd stormed the hospital and threatened to burn it if interfered with in releasing the cholera stricken inmates.

A small force of Carabiners, aided by a few policemen, attempted to control the crowds bu the ferocious attitude of the demonstrators soon made it appearent to the authorities that police were inadequate to cope with the situation, and in order to avoid bloodshed the doors of the hospital were thrown open.

The crowds rushed into the building, brought out th cholera patients and carried them in gastly procession through the town. The thoroughfares were lined with people who acclaimed the cholera victims and shouted impercations against the government. The cholera suspects under observation were also set free amid similar scenes of frantic enthusiasm enacted by the people.

The Italian Government has dispatched troops to the place.

Scenes similar to those witnessed at Gioia De Colle also are reported from Massafra, a town in the Italian province of Lecce.

While the municipal council of Lecce was in session today discussing the lest measures for combinating the cholera, thousands of demonstrants howling "death," "death", gathered about the city hall. The mayor and councillors suspended the meeting end escaped from the building. The mob then moved toward the cholera hospital, keeping up a running fight with the police who were unable to stop the marching crowd. Several policemen and some of the townspeople were dangerously injured.

The mob entered the hospital and after carrying out the patients smashed the furniture and set fire to the building. The patients, some of whom were in a dying condition, were carried triumphantly through the streets. The general belief of the people is that the doctors inoculate cholora stricken persons with poison.

5,000,000 Dead in Flood

New York, Sept. 9.—Flood and famine in the Yange-Tse Kiang Valley have claimed at least five million souls witnin the decade, according to conservative computations of missionary societies and other authorities who have received authentic reports from the death ridden districts.

In the famine of 1906-07 the most awful camp of which history has any record was established outside the walls of the ancient city of the Sing Kiang-Pu, situated on the grand canal about 100 miles north of the Yang-Tse river. There 500 men, women and children were herded into huts made of mud and reeds. Despite the efforts made by the Chinese government, by devoted misionaries and by well disposed foreigners, thousands died every day and the deaths in that section of the country in the nine months from October, 1906 to July, 1907, must have run to three quarters of a million.

A very large contingent of Chinese and influential foreign residents believe that the greatest responsibility confronting the Chinese government today is the solving of an engineering problem that will save the lives of the one hundred and fifty millions who inhabit the Yang-Tse valley and make possible for continued human occupation one of the richest territories in the world.

The constantly recurring floods are due partly to denudation of practically all trees as deforestation has been going on for hundreds of years.

Another cause is the peculiar conformation throughout many parts of the territory affected. Huge dams hold the flood waters from reaching natural channels in many places and completely submerge millions of acres every time the Yang-Tse, fed by the torrential rains in the mountains, gets on the rampage.

The engineering problems referred to are staggering. Here is a territory 700 miles long and 200 miles wide that at periods recurring at least every three years is fully or partly flooded. Canals and reservoirs would seem to be the only remedy unless the Great Yang-Tse can be dyked.

NOTED EDUCATOR DEAD

LaFayette College Professor Passes at Age of 86 Years.

Easton, Pa., Sept. 9.—Francis Andrew March, LL D., L. H. D., professor emeritus of comparitve philogy and English literature at LaFayette College, died today at his home on the college campus. He was 86 years old. In January last he fell and broke a hip, since which time he had been confined to his home.

Dr. March had a world wide reputation as a philogist. In his long career as one of the leading English scholars of the world he wrote many books on various subjects.

In 1855 he began his career at LaFayette College. He was a pioneer in the philogical study of the English classics. He devoted himself especially to the Anglo-Saxon language and ranked among the foremost scholars in that department.

Greenville, S. C., Sept. 9.—South Carolina cotton quarantine, Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Mississippi and Louisiana, which was to become effective September, 10th, was modified today after a conference to apply not to States as a whole but only to impertation from certain boll weevil infected counties and the date changed to October 1st.

consumers of the country were entitled to at least partial immediate relief. This Congress gave and the President took away. His tenderness was all for a few who profit by the present excessive rates. He hardened his heart to the multitude who are compelled to pay the exorbitant prices which include them."

"Not contented with calling the majority in Congress unscientific, incompetent and ignorant," continued Gov. Harmon, "though in his vetoes he did so in parliamentary phrase, the President now, in public speeches, charges them with insincerity, employing the ruder language of the stump. He says they were playing politics.'

"This gives one fellow feeling for Messrs. Clark and Underwood and their associates. For when I set about the reforms in Ohio which I was elected to secure I found mysen confronted by a General Assembly Republican in both branches, which undertook to discredit my administration in every way it could. It smothered or defeated measures proposed to prevent further grafting with the treasury funds, to limit taxation and distribute it fairly, to reduce expenses and secure effective conduct of the public business. When I persisted in uurging measures for these and other worthy objects, though I knew the fixed purpose to make my efforts fruitless, I, too, was charged with 'playing politics," which means pursuing a course from some unworthy motive, and any motive except to promote the general welfare is unworthy in a public officer.

"But at the first opportunity the voters of the State most emphatically declared that they 'play politics' who thwart effort for reforms andnot they who make such efforts, however hopeless of immediate succes.

"And talk of 'playing politics!' The members of the obstructive Republican Legislature were, according to press reports, in constant touch with the National administration during both sessions. The speaker and leaders frequently went to Washington and conferred with the President. Half the cabinet were sent to take part in the campaign last Fall where the direct issue was who had been 'playing politics' and who trying to serve the public interests. Yet in despatches inspired in Washington the claim is now set up that this great record of accomplishment by a Democratic administration is due to those who had to be twice defeated at the polls to secure it. 'Even from Washington,' says one of these after reciting with praise what has been done, 'where it was realized by the Republican chieftain that the Democrats would claim most of the credit for the passage of such legislation, Republicans in the Legislatures were urged and advised to support proposed laws which in their operation would prove to be a benefit to the great masses of the people.' This chieftain must have little influence with his followers in Ohio because, with now and then an honorable exception in either House, they continued to oppose a solid front against the entire programme of reforms for which the Democratic administration was contending with its slender majorities in Senate and House. Surely trying to take credit from those who have earned it is the worst form of 'playing politics.'

"Let our friends in Congress take heart, for if what they have done is 'playing politics,' the people will cry 'Go on with the game.'

"Take the tariff out of politics, say some. The President missed the best opportunity there ever was to do this by signing bills to reform the tariff which were passed by a Democratic House and a Republican Senate obeying the command of enormous popular majorities to which men of both parties contributed.

"But the tariff will never be taken out of politics so long as it is to be prostituted for private gain and those who get or wish to get the gain can control the organization of one of the great parties For the voters will always use the other party for their defense and the conflict will go on until it is settled whether privileged classes says one of these, after reciting with or the people shall rule, for those rule a country in whose behalf the taxing power is employed."

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 9.—While two negro boys were struggling for the possession of a rifle in a shooting gallery tonight, the weapon exploded and the bullet struck Eugene Ballinger, proprietor of the place in the abdomen. Ballinger died two hours later at St. Vincents hospital.

The boys, Cornelius Turner and Willie Bray, each 15 years old, were arrested charged with murder Ballinger was 45 years old.

Austin, Texas, Sept. 9.—The State Agricultural Department today announced that 643 correspondents showed the Texas cotton crop condition to be about 67 per cent normal on September 5, against the last government report of 68 per cent on August 25, eleven days earlier.

TO BRING ABONT HARMONY.

Conference of Democrats in Tennessee Holds All Day Session.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 9.—Efforts to bring about harmony in the ranks of the Democratic party in this State, occupied the attention of the leaders of the independent faction at an all-day conference here today. Late tonight the conference was still in session behind closed doors, but the following brief statement was given out by Secretary Johnson:

"A conference of Democrats, interested in the success of the Dmocratic party of the State, at a meeting here today decided to appoint a committee of five to confer with a like committee to be appointed by the committee of which W. O. Vertrees is chairman, to consider and report to the respective committees for ratification or rejection, plans for bringing about party harmony and unity of action in organization."

The committee named is composed of Justice O. C. Barton, Judge E. L. Bullock, B. A. Enloe, G. F. Milton and J. T. Amis.

Toledo, O., Sept. 9.—Three dynamite bombs were exploded in the basement of the Bour Coffee Company's plant on Spell Bush avenue at 10:45 o'clock tonight, partially wrecking the building.

BETTER COURT FACILITIES

President State Barr Association Calls Attention to Some Necessary Reforms in Legal Procedure—Suggestions and Coments.

Editor Star: I notice some errors in the public press in a discussion of the various propositions that were before the late session of the Bar Association looking to better court facilities for the State, and to improvement in certain matters of legal procedure. I deem it proper, as President of the Bar Association, to make a statement of those matters, not only for the information of the general public, but for the information of those attorneys who will not have access to the minutes of the Bar Association. A number of special committees have been appointed having in charge certain resolutions, which I take the liberty of asking you to publish. Any communications discussing the various propositions under consideration, addressed to me, will be promptly forwarded to the appropriate committee.

The following are the resolutions:

1. Committee to formulate bill to be presented to next General Assembly fixing some mode of procedure, by which a calendar of the cases to be tried at a term of Court may be arranged, giving all litigants interested in cases on the civil issue docket due notice of the arrangement thereof, and when thus arranged in accordance with the rule presented, compelling the Court to respect the calendar in taking up cases for trial.

II. Whereas it appears to this Association that the number of Judges in the State is entirely inadequate to the growing needs of our people, and the proper conduct of the business of our Courts, and that the fee system now obtaining as to Solicitors should be abolished, and that certain matters pertaining to the procedure of the Courts and the selection of jurors in both civil and criminal trials should be so revised as to faciliate the trial of causes and save to the tax payers of the State and litigants much cost now incident upon unnecessary delays of the law:

1. RESOLVED: that the number of Judicial Districts of the State be increased to 24 and that the State be divided into three circuits composed of Eight Judicial Districts, each one of which districts shall be small so as to provide an emergency Judge who may relieve any Judge in the State who is unable to hold his court.

2 That the entire State be re-districted with a view of providing each county with such number of courts as its population and business demands.

3. That the compensation of Solicitors be changed to a salary basis, and that their fees be paid into the treasuries of their respective counties.

4. That the law governing the challenges of juriors in both civil and criminal causes be revised so as to meet present day conditions.

5. That the Code of Civil Procedure be so amended as to require the prompt filing of pleadings and to facilitate the trial of causes.

6. That a committee of five active members of this association be appointed, whose duty it shall be to forthwith take up the work of familiarizing themselves with all the facts necessary to intelligent action, and upon these recommendations, that it shall confer with the Supreme and Superior Courts in order to secure their co-operation and approval in accomplishing these proposed reforms.

7. That said committee shall then prepare such tentative bills as in their judgment are necessary to carry out the purpose of the resolution. That 60 days before the next annual meeting of this Association the committee shall publish through the press of the State its proposed bills to be reported to this association and at our next annual meeting the committee shall submit its full report and the proposed bills for discussion and consideration with the view of aiding this association in the prefecting of such legislative measures as it may then deem wise and best to ask the General Assembly to enact into law.

8. That the expenses of the committee shall be borne by this association, to be paid by the treasurer.

9. In any civil action or special proceeding tried before a jury in the Superior Court, if, at the conclusion of the testimony any one or more of the parties thereto, moves the Court or in writing requests the Court to direct a verdict on any point of law con-clusive of the whole controversy or of any substantial portion thereof as to such party, the court shall grant or decline the same as it may seem lawful; and if such motion or request be declined and a verdict and judgment be rendered on such trial against the party or parties so moving or requesting such instruction, and and he or they appeal to the Supreme court presenting all the evidence bearing on such ruling, it shall be the duty of the Supreme Court if it shall be of the opinion that the trial court was in error in such ruling, to enter final judgment in the cause as upon a verdict rendered in accordance with such opinion, without sending such cause back for a new trial.

Resolved, That this Association is in favor of a change in the present method of revising the jury lists of our Superior Court.

Resolved Further, That the Committee on Legislation and Law Reform be directed to consider and report to the next meeting of this Association what method should be adopted in lieu of the present method.

IV. Resolved, That the President appoint a committee of five whose duty it shall be to make a thorough investigation of the Torrens System of registration and assurance of land titles, and make a report to the next meeting of this association, with such recommendations as they see proper to make and they are further empowered to draft and submit, with their report, a bill to be presented to the next General Assembly, if the association so directs.

The committee are further directed to have printed and distributed by the secretary of this association, to each member, a copy of their report and proposed bill, sixty days before the next annual meeting. The expenses incurred by this committee shall be paid by the association.

V. Resolved, By the North Carolina Bar Association, That the Special Committee appointed by the President of this association, be required to inquire into the advisability and feasibility of memorializing the next General Assembly of North Carolina to confer upon this association similar powers and privileges relative to admissions to the Bar and regulating the conduct of its members, as is now possessed by the Medical Society of North Carolina in matters pertaining to the Medical profession.

Resolved further. That the said committee report its conclusions, together with draft of bill in reference thereto, if any is proposed, to the next meeting of this association.

VI. Motion of Mr. Pittman, as amended: Moved that a committee of five, of which the Chief Justice shall be chairman,be appointed by the President to take charge of the matter of having a Bust or Statue made of Chief Justice Ruffin, with full authority to place the same where they think proper and take such action as they think proper in connection with the matter.

I respectfully ask that you give this matter publication, and invite discussion of the same.

FRANCIS D. WINSTON,
President N. C. Bar Association.

Farmers to Rescue of Consumers—Building School Houses—Municipal Ownership Abroad, According to the Financier's.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

New York, Sept. 9.—A movement that may ultimately result in the saving of many millions of dollars to consumers in the big cities and in a complete revolution of the methods of handling most kinds of produce was started very quietly here this week when a delegation representing several thousand farmers in New York and Pennsylvania after several weeks spent in preliminary arrangements established headquarters here for selling their output direct to retail shopkeepers, eliminating the wholesaler, jobber and commission man in disposing of their products.

While the enterprise is being started on a small scale applications have been received from over a thousand retail dealers who desire to offer their customers the advantage of produce fresh from the farm at rates no higher than they have been paying for the output of cold storage establishments. On the other hand the farmers engaged in this co-operative movement will receive better prices than at present when it is claimed that sixty to seventy-five per cent. of the retail price of most farm products goes to the various middlemen and only twenty-five to forty per cent. to the original producer. The farmers are backing their new enterprise with a fund of $1,000,000 and announce that they stand ready to provide several times this amount if they find it necessary. Fruits, vegetables, butter, gegs and poultry are the chief staples that are to be handled. The experiment is being watched with great interest by the consuming public which sees in it the possibility of relief from continued bondage to high prices and of escape from the clutches of the cold storage combination. If the plan is successful it undoubtedly will result in the establishment by associations of farmers of similar distributing plants in all the big cities of the country.

The financial leaders who are now returning from their Summer vacations abroad and who, in accordance with time-honored custom, submit to interviews before they step ashore, report that there is a gradual revulsion of public feeling in Great Britain on the subject of government ownership of public utilities. According to the head of a well-known banking firm who returned from London this week, Englishmen are just waking up to the fact that the operation of the telegraph system of the country as part of the activities of the Post office has cost the taxpayers something like $175,000,000 and involves an annual loss of over $5,000,000. On the other hand the beneficiaries of this particular form of government philanthropy are chiefly of two classes—big commercial houses and the racing fraternity—both of whom are as well able to pay for this service as is the average taxpayer. Instead of a reduction in the cost of telegraph operation since it has been in charge of the government, there has been an actual increase, according to this authority. He points out that the experience of Great Britian is interesting to this country in view of the proposal put forward from time to time to extend the business field of the Post Office by turning over to it transportation functions now left to private enterprise.

In spite of the most strenuous efforts Father Kickerbrocker unable to build new schoolhouses fast enough to accommodate his rapidly growing army of school children. Consequently when the doors of the city schools open next week there will be 80,000 children for whom there will be no seats and who will be able to attend school only for part of the time. Five years ago there were more than 100,000 pubils on part time. By rushing work on a large number of new buildings the number was cut down to a few thousand two years later. At that time, however, the amount of the city's borrowings approached so near the debt limit set by law that it was necessary to modify the building programme and to proceed more slowly. As a result the number of children of school age in again repidly outstripping the number of available sittings. That the task of supplying youngsters of the city with school facilities is no light one may be seen from the fact that in order to keep up with the increase of child population it is necessary to open a new school building every month.

A new automobile school was opened here this week. Its pupils and those on its waiting list number five hundred and they are all members of the city fire department. They are being trained to operate the motor fire engines and high pressure hose wagons that are being introduced to replace the old-fashioned horse-drawn fire apparatus as rapidly as the manufacturers can turn them out. My the end of the year it is expected that 150 of these fire motors will be in service and each one will require three drivers working eight-hour shifts. There are possibilities of risk and excitement in driving an automobile fire engine through New York's crowded can offer, and the application list for positions in this branch of the department's work is already full to overflowing.

The theatrical managers association which is constantly embroiled with the musicial union made up of members of the city and traveling theatrical orchestras believes that it has found a solution to this part of its troubles in a new device which is now being installed in one of the new theatres here. This is what is known as a unite orchestra in which all the instruments comprised in an orchestra of thirty or forty pieces are operated from a single keyboard arranged like that of an organ and requiring but a single operator. The device is the invention of a British engineer and has been endorsed by prominent opera stars as providing a throughly satisfactory accompaniment. Whether it will work in actual practice remains to be seen but naturally the managers are interested in anything that promises to enable them to cut down the expense and avoid the troubles that they incur in dealing with musicians and the musical temperament. LONGACRE.

Norfolk, Va., Sept 8.—The battleships Delaware, Virginia, Nebraska and Ohio coming in today from the southern drill grounds where the Atlantic fleet has been engaged in its autumnal manuevers and war game, proceeded up Cnesapeake Bay to Tangier Sound where the Delaware is to engage in other firing with the hulk of the San Marcos or old battleship Texas as a target.

WHAT OF SOUTH'S ATTITUDE

Bishop Strange Reviews "The Basis of Ascendancy—"Development of the Negro As An Asset Instead of a Liability.

(Bishop Robert Strange, in The North Carolina Review.)

I have read lately "The Basis of Ascendancy," by Mr. Edgar Gardner Murphy, L. L. D., of Montgomery, Ala. Some seven years ago I read with interest and profit Dr. Murphy's first book. "The Present South." I expected much from this, his second work on the problems of the South, and I was not mistaken. In "The Basis of Ascendancy," Dr. Murphy discusses with full knowledge and natural sympathy our racial situation, proposes the wisest and most helpful plan for its betterment, and appeals to the noblest instincts of Southern manhood to carry out that plan. So that I wish to introduce it more widely to the people of North Carolina; and so I have written to Mr. Daniels offering to review it in The News and Observer.

What is the basis or conditions of ascendancy in any race or social group? It is its social capacity for self-correction, its power of fundamental appropriation. It is the ability to meet social difficulties and to solve social problems and to grow stronger and happier by them. Here are we—the white people of the South—sixteen millions of us—belonging, as we believe, to the strongest, most righteous and most progressive race on earth, living on the same soil, in a Democratic Republic, under the same laws and institutions, with eight million negroes, members of the weakest, the most immoral and backward of human races. It is a tremendous burden in our march of human progress. It is a burden we are having to carry in addition to the ordinary loads that oppress the wayfarer along the highway of civilzation. The situation is perplexing, beset with difficulties, tragic in its possibilities. We have faced these conditions bravely in the recent past, and have mastered their difficulties wisely and well. All honor to the men who fought for society and civilzation, and wrested them from the hands of hatred, ignorance and incompetency. Due praise to the men who, in their efforts to check deceit among our own race, as well as to secure the results of the fierce strife for oder and safety, passed the suffrage amendments to our constitutions. But the question now is, how shall we fight the battles of peace, how shall we meet the steady difficulties of today and every day, how shall we face the future? Shall it be with the same high courage and wise judgment? The South stands today at the parting of the ways.

What shall be our attitude towards this weaker social group? Shall it be restrictive or constructive? What shall be our conduct and thought towards the negro? Shall they be to depress or to develop him? Shall it be to depress. Not to give him a man's chance, to keep him ignorant, to wall him off from industrial opportunity, to deprive him of all interest in the government of his community, to offer him no inducement to honesty, thrift and indust'y, to give him over to despair? And with what results? That he will stay contented where he is? No: Living things do not stand still. As despair deepens, so will hatred, jealousy and revenge. He will descend lower and lower. He will mingle more unreservedly with the vilest whites and minister to their appetites to degrade our race. As he goes down, heavier and fiercer will be his downward pull on us. Think of the influence of this weaker race upon us now. Are we concerned with legislation? It must be considered both as a problem of legislation and a problem of race. Are we concerned as to the development of labor? Our division lies not only between the skilled and unskilled, but between the race and race. Do questions concern us as to the distribution of our labor? The great black masses of the untrained are withheld by racial and climatic tendencies, from the normal movement of the general labor market of the country. The rest of the country does not want them and can hardly use them; we ourselves want them; but the incursion of white laborers, which we also want, is checked by the very conditions which demand relief. Are we concerned with questions of popular reluctance to make public expenditures, which will include the blacks, will long prevent the development of such adequate falilities for general education as are demanded by every interest of the stronger race. Are we concerned in questions of statesmanship? Abnormal absorption in the issues of race has tended to make real politics impossible to a people who historically have possessed peculiar political efficiency, and has deprived our common people of the valuable educatfon that comes from free public discussion. The time and thought taken up with the task of holding down a large part of our population are lost for other important matters. There is nothing more perilous to the normal standards of social feeling than the presence of a large and distinctive class of a closely related population too ignorant and to oweak to protect itself. The chief sufferer is not the weaker group; but the group thus afforded a rich support for its coarser elements and its lower tendencies. Low standards in the service rendered by the negro to the comunity are not so serious as the low standard of service he exacts: Low grades of goods, cheap adulterated qualities of food, poor houses at high rents, petty loans at extortionate interest, top-heavy mortgages that embitter the victim and harden the heart of the lender. Dr. Murphy insists again and again upon the point, that the deeper peril is to the life of the strong—low economic standards opening the way for our economic vices, low intellectual standards yielding prizes to the promptings of the charlatan, low moral standards offering occasions for lust in the young and the weak as well as the brutally depraved; ar unfolding and ever-waiting world of opportunity for darker tendencies, an awful, ever-present atmosphere of low suggestion. We have been largely saved from these degrading influences in the past by the chivalry of our best, by the kindly feelings for the old slaves, by the positive struggle for liberty and order, by the excuse that, in doing well on the whole we may not be held to strict account in detail. But all these are things of the past. If we now enter upon the restrictive measures as a deliberate policy for the future, these evil influences will assail us with full force, with tenfold virulence. That way the door of hope is closed for the weak and strong alike.

Or shall our settled policy be to develop the negro? Encourage him to put forth every faculty to become a man, give him opportunity for the satisfaction of reasonable ambition, assure him of full security in life, liberty and property, guarantee him civil, industrial and political justice, let him feel that there is a place and a work for him in the land in which he lives. Put the suffrage test so high that it will eliminate the ignorant, the shiftless and the vicious, and let it fall fairly on white and black alike. Instead of the presence of the black children being a reason why we should not have compulsory education, let their presence in our midst be the chief reason why we should have compulsory education—their education being as truly for our good as for their own. In the railroad cars make a difference in the accommodations in the negro division to encourage the development of a better class among them. Establish simple, practical farm reformatories for the irresponsible and vagabond negro children. Give them hope, ecurage and self-respect. With what results? That the negro, stimulated by the subtle force of hope, sympathy and safety, would move forward at a more rapid rate; that the dense masses of the negroes in the South will break up and scatter more freely over the whole country, that white immigrants would flow more freely to our land, and that this will give rise to such variety of occupation as will benefit all of our people; that we ourselves, feeling the sense of security, conscious of giving hope and doing justice, will refuse to be hampered longer by the past issues, will let loose all our energies toward the noblest civilization. The injurious social reaction caused in the stronger by its contact with the weaker group can be checked and, in a measure, overcome, only by the stronger modifying its revulsion by its compassion, meeting the pull of temptation by the sense of duty. Its own gradual deliverance springs upward rise of the negro will directly affect for good the white race. As men help other men, as race helps race, the slow rise of the weaker touches the life of the stronger with an upward pressure. The weaker group affects the stronger more and more as the impulsion of a slowly rising and increasingly wholesome influence. Few things in the general growth of intelligence of our negroes in the South are, therefore, of more far-reaching importance than the upward pressure of that intelligence upon the lives of the race above them; for the upward pressure of one group upon another group is as obvious as the pressure of individual upon individual. Not only does a race which is declinig in efficiency have a tendency to pull the stronger into the descending process of its ruin; but a race which is relatively lower, has a tendency ,if it be growing in efficiency, to involve the stronger in the ascending process of its rise.

But you ask, is the negro really improving, can we help him to progress, is he capable of it? For an honest answer to that question we should contrast the negro in America, not with the white man in America, but with the negro in Africa. When we do that 'We find that the distance between the average life of the race in the United States and the average life of the race in contemporary Africa is so very overwhelmingly evident that the progress of these people during their three hundred years upon our soil becomes one of the most astonishing achievements in the history of the republic." The race that has improved so far can surely improve farther. Study the life of the negro minority, relatively larger or smaller, in any locality; and we must say they are improving. We must judge the race by its best; that better minority can steadily increase. Think of the exceptional negro which each one of us knows; and the exceptional holds out promise for the average. Booker Washington, Kelley Miller, Shepard, Phillips, Smyth, Taylor show what a negro can become.

But—here is the crux—will not these developing, efficient, educated negroes seek social interchange with the whites and so bring on social equality and amalgamation of the races No, not at all; here is Dr. Murphy's strongest point. As a matter of fact, we find now, first, that the mixture ot the races is at the lower levels rather than the higher among the negroes; second, that the educated, efficient negroes are seeking less and less to find their satisfaction among the white men and are turning closer and closer to themselves; third, that a consciousness of kind, a race consciousness, a pride of race and a belief in its future, is slowly forming among the leading negroes. These facts assure us that, as the negroes rise in character and efficiency, they draw more closely to themselves and become more distinct in social matters. Again, what is the effect of real education on men. Its chief gift is not new possession but new needs. Among these the strongest is the hunger for association. The profoundest need of every educated life is for another educated life. The deepened instinct, the educative impulse is assimilative, accumulative, social; it demands and creates a community. The educated negro cannot get that association among the whites, whether he wish or no; actually he does not turn to the whites; but he turns to his own race, finds his satisfaction there, builds up his own community, and so strengthens the integrity of his race. The more truly educated he becomes, the more of a man he becomes and the more of a negro he becomes. No, the recognition of the rights of the negro—civil, political, industrial—need involve no invasion of our social autonomy or race integrity; our social segregation need involve no invasion of the negroes' rights. Along the path of negro development lies hope, progress, happiness for both races, each within its own distinct social race lines.

The South has feared coercion by force. Through the forms of law they sought to destroy our liberty, our society, our very civilization. We won in that terrible struggle; for behind us in those days of reconstruction was the resistless force of that universal reason that common and self-executing energy of justice, fighting for the enfranchisement of the South, even as it had fought for the emancipation of the slave. Now we men of the South, are facing another coercion. It is no longer of outward force but of inward power. It is the world spirit of justice, of hope, of love, suggesting persuading; it is the genius of our age declaring that the lowest man in all this earth must be counted for one. God grant that we may hear its voice, that we may not oppose and be crushed by it; but that, working in harmony with it, we may be lifted upwards by its might to all good and great things.

The last great thought of Dr. Murphy is most stimulating to our manhood and true ambition. How can we regain the National influence which we wielded in the first half of the last century? How can we again become ascendant in the statesmanship of our country? Only by service, only by becoming more necessary, only by doing better than any other section some work most important of all. Look out on the world today. We note two tendencies; one is the increase of empire, the strong nations possessing the territory of the weaker nations and assuming their control and training. The other is the distribution of power within the limits of empire, the utilizing of our great principle of local self-government, giving to the weaker peoples all the liberty they can truly enjoy, all the powers they can really use. It is the white man's burden, assumed consciously or unconsciously for the uplife of the weaker races of mankind. The United States has claimed her share in these world movements in Porto Rico, in Hiawaii, in the Philipine Islands. Now where is naturally the training-ground in our country—I may say in all the world—for learning how to direct these world forces, for learning how the strong and the weak races shall live together for the true development of both races? Is it not in the South? Is not this the burden and the power by our people? Is not our very difficulty our real opportunity? Ah! if we shall embrace this opportunity wisely, lovingly and courageously, if we shall fullfil our great task greatly, if we shall set a standard which the world's teachers and rulers may surely follow—then, we shall become ascendant among the statesmen of America; for we shall be making America ascendant among the nations of the earth.

A PRAYER.

Sweet Savior, bless us as we go,
Thy words into our minds instil
And make our lukewarm hearts to grow
With lowly love and fervent will
Through life's long day and death's dark night,
O, gentle Jesus, be our light.

The day is gone, its hours have run
And thou hast taken count of all
The scanty triumphs grace have won,
Through life's long day and death's dark night,
O, gentle Jesus, be our light.

Grant us, dear Lord, from evil ways,
Due absolution and release,
And bless us more than in past days
With purity and inward peace
Through life is long day and death's dark night,
O, gentle Jesus be our light.

Labor is sweet for thou hast toiled
And care is light for thou hast cared
Ah! Never let our works be soiled
With strife or by deceit ensnared
Through life's long day and death's dark night,
O, gentle Jesus, be our light.

For all we love the poor, the sad,
The sinful unto Thee We call,
O, let thy mercy make us glad,
Thou art our Jesus and our all.
Through life's long day and death's dark night,
O, gentle Jesus, be our light.

Sweet Savior, bless us, night is come,
Through night and darkness near us be
Good angels watch about our home
And we are one day nearer Thee.
Through life's long day and death's dark night,
O, gentle Jesus, be our light.

Fashions Change Little.

From the fresco paintings of women in the Cretan palaces of the period about 2,000 B. C. it is learned that the women of that time pinched in their waists, had flounced or accordion plaited skirts, wore an elaborate coiffure on their heads, shoes with high heels and hats which might have come from a Parisian hat shop, while one woman might be described as wearing a jupe culotte.

My Corns Don't Hurt A Bit.

Tired, Ailing, Swollen, Smelly, Sweaty Feet, Corns, Callouses and Bunions, TIZ Cures Right Off.

Say good-bye to your corns the very first time you use TIZ. You will never know you have a corn, bunion or callous, or sweaty, tired, swollen, aching feet any more. It's just wonderful the way the pain vanishes. Rub the corn—hammer it with your fist if you wish—no more pain after TIZ than if there had never been a blemish on your feet. Doesn't that sound good to you? Doesn't it? Then read this.

"The corns on either of my toes were as large as the tablets you make to cure them. To-day there is no sign of corns on either foot and no soreness. It's an up-to-date Godsend.—Sam. A. Hoover, Progress, N. C.

Just use TIZ. It's not like anything else for the purpose you ever heard of. It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principal of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. TIZ cleans them out and keeps them clean. It works right off. You will feel better the very first time it's used. Use it a week and you can forget you ever had sore feet. There is nothing on earth that can compare with it. TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25 cents per box, or direct, if you wish, from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

WEEK'S NEWS AT LUMBERTON

County Commissioners in Session—Low Rates to Richmond—The Excessive Rains—Some New Building—Personal

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Lumberton, N. C., Sept. 9.—The Board of County Commissioners met yesterday in called session for the purpose of making final settlement with Sheriff McNeill for the taxes of 1910 and for the consideration of other matters. Among other things it was decided that the sheriff who went on a salary basis the first of the month, must bear the expense of conveying all lunatics to the asylum in the future. Jailer Floyd was put on a salary of $50 per month, and will be allowed 20 cents a day for feeding each prisoner. It was decided to ask the Governor to order a one-week special term of Superior Court to convene on Monday, September 25th. The governor had already been consulted and had signified his willingness to order the special term as soon as the commissioners would ask for it. The special term will be held for the purpose of trying civil cases only. It is expected that Judge Carter will preside. The jury to serve during the term was drawn yesterday. The regular term for trying criminal cases will convene Monday with Judge Whedbee presiding. We do not know the number of prisoners in jail, but unless something unforeseen happens there will be fewer when Judge Whedbee leaves than when he arrives, and it is very probable that several will be given positions on the county roads. A few days ago there were only 37 convicts road-making.

Tickets will be sold to Richmond and return, via the V. & C. S. and A. C. L. Tuesday, September 12th, good returning until the 14th. Tickets good on regular trains of 12th. The fare from Lumberton for the round trip will be $3.50. The Lumberton rate will also apply to Elizabethtown, Dublin and Tar Heel. The rate from St. Pauls will be $3.25. Those of our people who may wish to visit Richmond any time soon will not have a better opportunity.

Mr. Dan Hoffman, contracting agent for the "Mighty Hoey Shows," spent Thursday and yesterday in town making arrangements for the coming of that attraction on Friday, October 6th. It is said that with the exception of John H. Sparks' show, this will be the first circus to visit Lumberton since 1898. The show grounds will be located at 12th and Elm streets, and it is safe to predict a crowd in town that day.

During the reign of terror in this county back in the 60's and 70's, when the rewards offered for the capture, dead or alive, of the members of the Henry Berry Lowry gang, up into the thousands, no such fiendish crime was committed as that of last Saturday night when Mr. J. G. Tolar was assaulted by a mid-night assassin. Mr. Tolar is still living, and at times show signs of improving, but the results of his injuries cannot yet be foretold.

The waters in Lumber river are fast receding, but it is hoped will not get as low as before the big rains. There has been no rain in this section during the past week until yesterday afternoon. One farmer was heard to remark that the fine weather was worth thousands of dollars each day to the farmers of this county. As a result of the heavy rains the week previous much open cotton was beaten down in the ground and the seed were sprouting and coming up in abundance.

While in conversation with a gentleman from Rowland this week, he stated that the people of that town, or many of them, were already tired of the no-Sunday mail service, and that an effort would be made at an early day to have the service put on again. Only those who go to the trains and buy papers know anything about what is going on away from home. Rowland has as clever a postmaster as we have ever met and he will do as near as possible what his people want done.

Mr. Samuel A. Branch, the veteran contractor, has the contract for the erection of three brick stores on Chestnut between Third and Fourth streets, on the lot at present occupied by the stables vacated a few days ago by Mr. Odell Edens. The buildings will be 80 feet deep and 22 feet wide, and it is understood that they are already rented, one of them to be occupied by the John T. Biggs Company as a ware room.

Chief of Police Sam Strain, of Rowland, who entered upon the duties of his office the first of the month, is reported to have made a big "scoop" Thursday when he arrested one of the most highly respected colored men of the town on suspicion of being implicated in some of the many robberies which have been going on in that town. The colored man's home was searched and many stolen goods recovered. A bunch of keys was also found on which were keys to unlock six of the business houses of the town.

Thursday night, shortly before midnight, the chickens began crowing all over town same as if it were about day, several of them making a noise as if something was after them. It is a well-known fact that when chickens begin crowing, as a rule, all the roosters in the neighborhood take it up and pass it around. That was the case Thursday night. The disturbance among the fowls might have been the result of their becoming frightened in a neighborhood in town where a gentleman is supposed to have had a "night mare," and who while in the clutches of the imaginary animal said and did all sorts of things. One lady in the vicinity thought the language used while he was moving a trunk and other things out into the street, would have knocked the bark off the trees. The spell passed off and he knew nothing about it until the next day. It is said that one gentleman went in such haste for an officer that he forgot to get more than half dressed.

As a result of the heavy rains last week, the boiler rooms in the basement of both the First Baptist church and the graded school building, were flooded with five feet of water, but it is not thought there will be much if any damage.

It seems now that the proposition to establish a new paper at Hamlet by two Lumberton printers has fallen through, for the present at least.

Mr. John A. Beckwith, who was recently appointed to the position of auditor of the V. & C. S., has moved his family to Lumberton. At present they are keeping house, occupying the Redmond house on Elm street between 7th and 8th streets. Lumberton extends to them a most cordial welcome.

Lumberton township shows an increase of 63 per cent. in valuation per acre over 1907 valuation, and there is a question now as to whether there will be any deduction allowed by the Board of Equalization, although Howellsville township, showing an increase of 54 per cent. is allowed a deduction of 10 to 15 per cent., as well as Thompson and other townships, ranging from 30 to 55 per cent. increase.

Last week when the trains were tied up on account of washouts, we heard a hot air traveling man of the "hollow head" variety declaring that as soon as he could get in communication with the Corporation Commission he would find out why the Seaboard could not operate its trains on time. Bystanders sympathized with him for they knew he didn't know any better.

Miss Ida McKenzie entertained her Sunday School class at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. McKenzie, last night, and the young folks had a most enjoyable time.

A number of young people enjoyed a dance at the Waverly Hotel last night. This was the third or fourth dance there during the past month, all of which have been greatly enjoyed. We love to see the young people have a good time.

During the past few days we have heard different people discuss the question as to whether there was an ordinance in Lumberton requiring automobiles to carry lights at night. Some are brilliantly lighted while others have no sign of lights. We asked one of the town officials about the matter yesterday, and he stated most emphatically that there was such an ordinance. Perhaps when someone is run over and killed or badly injured, the owners of the dark cars will decide to use lights.

Mr. E. E. Daley, who has for some time held a position here with the V. & C. S., left yesterday morning for Carey, the present home of his parents, Rev. and Mrs. T. J. Daley. During his stay in Lumberton Mr. Daley has made many friends who sincerely regret his departure. Mr. Daley's father was a few years ago pastor of the Fairmont Methodist church.

Politics be hanged! We want to see Robeson county issue bonds for good roads. The county has a good roads man at the head of the work, but what can he do in a life time if he is not provided with the means? A large force of convicts are kept on the roads most of the time, here and there, but more help is needed on the job. In this connection we are glad to state that we are informed that the sanitary conditions of the convict camps were never better, and the health of the prisoners good. Every time a change is made in location if the water supply is not good, about the first thing to be done is to drive a deep well. The convicts are now kept in portable cages at night, requiring only one guard, and that as a precaution against interference from the outside.

Mr. Geo. B. McLeod and family returned form the mountains this week. Mr. McLeod arrived home sick, but is out again, and seems to be on the fair road to restoration to perfect health.

Mesdames Jake Thompson and Mike Caldwell and Miss Mary McNeill returned yesterday from Lenoir, where they went August 30th on a Seaboard excursion.

Manager Davis, of the telephone exchange, who also has supervision of the Rowland and Fairmont exchanges, was bragging last night on his day's work yesterday. He said he left here yesterday morning at 7 o'clock for Rowland, but before leaving a gentleman chased him down town asking to be allowed to sign a contract for a phone. He went on to Rowland, 20 miles, and got four new subscribers. From there he drove to Fairmont, where a man was so anxious to sign up for a 'phone that he fell in the buggy. We beat that during the week. In the space of three blocks four of our best citizens have stopped us as we walked by and gave us orders to have the Daily Star sent to them.

While strolling down by the river one day this week a gentleman threw a small rock at a strange looking bird which he saw picking around the water's edge, and by accident killed it. It was some kind of a sea bird which must have been blown out of its range by the storm. It bore the marks and color of a king fisher, but was not one exactly. From tip to tip it measured two feet exactly, but would not have weighed over two or three ounces.

There must be a great deal of pellagra in this county. We recently mentioned that two physicians had treated 8 cases each, and now D. H. T. Pope tells us that during the past year he has treated 16 cases, some of them being to all appearances permanently cured, while the others are all improving.

Owing to the delay in freight trains last week as a result of the different washouts, the Seaboard force had 24 local cars to work last Monday.

During the week Lumberton has had two visitors whose combined ages is 180 years, Mr. Spivey, of Timmonsville, S. C., being 93, and Mr. Henry Pitman, of Wishart's township, this county being 87. We do not know about Mr. Spivey, but Mr. Pitman does not use eye glasses.

Mr. W. Richard Murphy, for the past year or two plumber for the McAllister Hardware Company, has resigned, retired from the plumbing business, and gone on the road as a traveling salesman for a dental supply house, his former occupation for three years.

Mr. C. M. Fuller now has his sales stables well stocked with mules and horses, having received 50 head this week. Mr. W. I. Linkhaw also received another car load this week, being his second since the season opened.

Mr. A. R. Phillips has again embarked in the grocery business, and is

HEAT-DANGERS FOR CHILDREN

The little folks do not stand the heat as well as their elders, and special care should be taken to keep them in good physical condition. One of the things to be especially watchful of is the condition of the bowels, which presents many dangers hardly dreamed of by parents. When the child shows a tendency to constipation, if it loses appetite, complains of headaches, itch or fails to sleep well and awake refreshed, the mother may be certain that the child needs a tonic-laxative with ingredients such as are contained in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, of which most mothers have heard and which thousands of mothers are using for themselves and their children. Indigestion is one of the worst troubles of child-life in the summer time, and it manifests itself in many different ways. Whatever the cause and whatever the manifestation the mother may be sure of removing the trouble with a few doses of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which should always be kept in the house for emergency. It is sold in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00, and can be obtained of any druggist. Those who have never used it and wish to make a test of it before buying, can obtain a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE by addressing

When You Think

Of the pain which many women experience with every month it makes the gentleness and kindness always associated with womanhood seem to be almost a miracle. While in general no woman rebels against what she regards as a natural necessity there is no woman who would not gladly be free from this recurring period of pain.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well, and gives them freedom from pain. It establishes regularity, subdues inflammation, heals ulceration and cures female weakness.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence strictly private and sacredly confidential. Write without fear and without fee to World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y.

If you want a book that tells all about woman's diseases, and how to cure them at home, send 21 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce to pay cost of mailing only, and he will send you a free copy of his great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser—revised, up-to-date edition, in paper covers. In handsome cloth-binding, 31 stamps.

West Florida Naval Stores Co., Pensacola, Fla., was organized with $250,000 capital stock to manufacture naval stores.

Western Maryland Railway Co., Baltimore, Md., awarded contract to regrade and extend yards at Baltimore, providing trackage facilities for 1,000 additional cars; improvement will cost abount $250,000.

Dixie Guano Co., Suffolk, Va., was chartered with $50,000 capital stock to manufacture fertilizer.

Taylor Refining Co., Jacksonville, Fla., was incorporated with $400,000 capital stock to distill wood oils, etc.

Stacy Coal Co., Richmond, Va., was chartered with $50,000 capital stock to develop coal property.

J. J. White Lumber Co., McComb City, Miss., purchased about 270,000 feet of yellow pine timber near Columbia, Miss., for future development.

Where He Was Safe.

"So you have adopted a baby to raise?" we asked of our friend. "Well, it may turn out all right, but don't you think you are taking chances?" "Not a chance," he answers. "No matter how many bad traits the child may develop, my wife can't say he inherits any of them from my side of the house."—Life.

No More Silk Hat Heroes.

The hero who wears an immaculate top hat is getting rare in novels. Perhaps this decline has some relation to the lessening popularity of the hat in real life. Certainly "Ouida" would never have dreamed of turning out a hero without his being silk-hatted or uniformed to the last degree.—Book Monthly.

Nature's Workings.

If you are looking for the original blown bottle Cold Proposition, find the man that always yelled "Fill 'em up again" in the days when he was young and in his prime. He is the one genuine Tight Wad. If you need help, for the love of humanity as well as yourself, keep away from him.

The Jews in France.

France was the first country to extend equal rights to Jews. As early as 1791 distinguished men of the faith were honored with titles and among them were many men identified with the history of the country. Later they were deprived of the right to hold titles.

Stirring It Over.

"I'm a poor conversationalist at these highbrow dinner parties. I'm always afraid of mispronouncing some word." "Take a mouthful of spinach before attempting a word that you are uncertain about."

No Need to Stop Work.

When your doctor orders you to stop work, it staggers you. "I can't," you say. You know you are weak, run down and failing in health, day by day, but you must work as long as you can stand. What you need is Electric Bitters to give tone, strength, and vigor to your system, to prevent breakdown and build you up. Don't be weak, sickly or ailing when Electric Bitters will benefit you from the first dose. Thousands bless them for their glorious health and strength. Try them. Every bottle is guaranteed to satisfy. Only 50c at R. R. Bellamy's.

SHOULD WIFE DO OWN WORK

One Way of Eliminating Servant Problem—Philosophical Discussion in the Realm of Woman's World —The Mother.

(Christian Science Monitor.)

Whether a wife has a servant or not generally depends upon two ifs—if she can afford one, and if she can keep one. Provided that her husband can pay a weekly wage to a maid, she hires one, and sometimes she is able to induce the girl to work for her too poor to afford the luxury of a maid, too poor to afford the luxuly of maid, the average woman considers herself unfortunate. She seldom stops to consider if she really needs a servant Many a wife who worries because she can't afford help, or because she can't keep the girls she gets, would find her troubles disappearing if she but realized that she could and should do her own work and get along without a servant, writes Eleanor Robertson in the Chicago Record-Herald. There is no finer or better work a woman can do than that in her own home.

The mother with a growing family often needs help with her work, but a young wife, or a childless wife, is better doing her own work. In a great many cases where a young housekeeper thinks she needs help she needs rather to eliminate some things from her work, to systematize her methods, and to become more expert through experience.

Often a wife wishes to have help so that she can devote herself to other interests. The young wife's place is in her home. If she is to accomplish her life work as a wife, homemaker and mother she needs to devote herself to these interests. There can be no success where there is no concentration. For this reason it is well that she do her own work—that she be intmately associated with her home. If she leaves the work in her home to another her interest in it is likely to flag; her outside interests are likely to become paramount to her, and her life will be all out of proportion.

Another reason why it is well for a woman to do her own work, and one which is not enough appreciated, is the joy of domesticity. This joy is never felt by the woman who does not do her own work. The wife who merely supervises her work does not have the same intimate satisfaction in the cleanly scrubbed floor, the tastefully-arranged parlor, the fresh, dainty bedroom, as the woman who herself does the work of scrubbing and cleaning and sewing and arranging. The woman is to be pitied who does not know the wholesome pleasure of making bread, of watching it rise and of finally taking the savory loaves out of the oven.

Unless it is absolutely necessary to have help it is absurb to introduce into the home the problem of how to get along with help and how to keep help. For, in the present conditions the entrance of help into the home does not bring added simplicity and harmony, but rather the reverse. In England, they say, there is no servant problem; the domestic machinery where servants are employed runs smoothly and peaceably. And this, they say, is because the servants are trained workers and their work is systematized and limited. Their mistresses expect them to do certain things and no more.

In this country the servants are untrained and the mistresses unskilled as mistresses. The average mistress who is struggling to get along with and keep her help is like an inexperienced frightened driver trying to drive a wild, unbroken western horse. If the driver were skilful he might succeed in breaking in the horse, Or, if the horse were broken to harness, the driver might learn to drive him correctly by constant practice. Unfamilingly, however, the horse can tell by the way in which the lines are held if the driver knows his business. If he discovers his driver is not up to his job he will, nine cases out of ten, take advantage of him, bolt, buck and kick. It is in horse nature and human nature to take advantage of incompetency and cowardice. It is in all nature to obey firmness and courage and capability.

Chance for an Investigator.

Wasn't it Jay Gould who laid the foundation of a great fortune by the sale of rat traps? If so and you have ever tried to set one of these five or ten cent affairs they sell in the department stores, you may well wonder why some one does not follow his example with a mouse trap that can be set without losing all one's religion. —Scientific American.

OPENING AT THE A. & M.

Football Squad Getting in Line—New Dormitory—The Y. M. C. A.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

West Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 9.—The 22nd session of the A. & M. College opened Thursday with an enrollment of 414 students, with between 100 and 125 waiting to register. Of the 414 students registered by 8 o'clock Thursday night, 193 are new ment. The registrar expects 600 men to be enrolled by the end of September, making the largest enrollment for September in the history of the college.

Every man who could possibly find a football suit, about 35 in number, yesterday answered Captain Stafford's call for candidates for the team. There are between 20 and 30 men now waiting to go out on the field but are held back by the non-arrival of equipment which is expected to arrive in the next few days. From present prospects there will be sufficient material in college this Fall to select men from to fill the places of the four 'Varsity men that have not returned to college. These men are von Eberstein, Gattis, Bray and Glenn. A write-up of the men composing the squad, including their former football experience, will be given in the next few days.

The two wings to the new dormitory have not been completed as yet, but will be thrown open to the use of the students within the next ten days. Such portions of the two wings as are in shape for use are now being occupied. These two wings will furnish room for ninety six more students than could be accommodated last year. Even with this addition to the rooming facilities of the college the congestion among the students will not be entirely relieved, and will not be entirely relieved, and will be met by putting three men in some of the rooms which usually accommodate only two students.

Work on the new mess hall is progressing rapidly, the window and door frames being now placed in position. This building will be only one story in height and will be ready for use by the first of January. The present mess hall will be used for the armory and the room now being used for the accommodation of the military equipment will be fitted up as a toilet.

The Animal Husbandry Building, over on the hill back of the Agricultural Building, is rapidly going up, and when completed will greatly relieve the present crowded condition of the Agricultural Building.

Just as soon as the plans are completed by the architect, H. E. Bonitz, of Wilmington, work will start on the $40,000 Y. M. C. A. which will be situated directly back of the Third and Fourth Dormitories facing the Athletic Field.

S.S.S. CURES BLOOD POISON

Contagious Blood Poison manifests itself in the most loathsome symptoms, such as ulcerated mouth and throat, copper-colored spots, and even sores and ulcers on different portions of the body. The poison causes the hair to fall out, and sometimes the glandular system is attacked. No medicine can cure Contagious Blood Poison which does not rid the circulation of every particle of the insidious virus. The least taint left in the blood will break out afresh when treatment is left off. S.S.S. is the real and certain cure for Contagious Blood Poison; it goes into the circulation, and by removing every particle of the poison, and adding, rich, healthy qualities to the blood, forever cures this powerful disorder. All who suffer with this disease may cure themseves in the privacy of their homes by using S.S.S. and following instructions contained in our Home Treatment Book, which we will send, together with any medical advice desired, free of charge. S.S.S. is for sale at drug stores.

DON'T BE NERVOUS!

YOUR nerves are over-strung, and you feel, sometimes, as though they would snap.

Loosen the tension, as you would the strings of a guitar, or piano.

Do it by taking CARDUI, the woman's tonic. It relieves the strain on your nerves—or, rather, it strengthens your nerves, so the strain does not seem so bad, as it does to weak nerves.

Weak women,—weak because of their womanly ailments—seem to suffer a great deal from nervous troubles.

The womanly ailment saps and weakens their vitality and soon they feel as if they were on the ragged edge of despair.

CARDUI is a remedy that has been found of very great benefit in just such conditions.

Not one, but thousands of women in this condition, have been benefited by its use.

No extravagant claims are made for this medicine. Those who claim the most for it, are those who have bought it and used it.

It is a scientific remedy, that acts in a scientific way, and if you suffer in the manner described, it is probable that it will do as much for you as it has for so many others.

At least, a trial cannot harm you, will cost but a trifle and may lead you to health.

Take CARDUI, THE WOMAN'S TONIC

So Weak and Nervous

I must speak a good word for CARDUI.

Some time ago, I was in very bad health. I was so weak and nervous that I was not able to do my house-work.

My husband bought me one bottle of Wine of Cardui; I took it according to directions, and now I am in good health.

I think CARDUI is a fine medicine for weak women.

A minister in search of health arrived in a Texas town seeking the benefits of its climate. On the way, he had been robbed of forty dollars, the last of some funds provided by friends before he left home. So he found himself penniless in a strange place and physically unable to work. He moved with his wife and five children into a small vacant house. His wife began at once to look for some means of earning a support and so got to doing sewing and washing. One day while she was out,, their second son, nine years of age, said: "Papa, I am going out to get work too." In a little while he got a job blacking shoes at a barber shop, and, the first night, he brought back one dollar as the earnings of his first day's work. He handed it to his fatner, saying, "Papa, you shall not suffer as long as I can work."

Children are greatly interested in the events of their parents' early lives. "Distance," in such cases, lends enchantment to the view." The grandmother often renders important service to the children by telling stories of old times. Those early days have romantic fascination to the little ones whose lives have but recently begun. If the story be one of pioneer life in the olden times, children appreciate it intensely. They become linked to the past by weaving the chain of memory for them, and they gain a sense of solidarity with their ancestors. The family traditions, ideals, and sentiment are conveyed to them and perpetuated in their thoughts and actions. It uplifts children to be brought into the line of heroic men and women, who stand out on the distant horizon in ideal and beautiful figure. We cannot estimate the effect on the character and standards of children when their ancesters are exalted before them. It is true that such may have been ordinary men and women, but when idealized, they become saints by whose deeds children are impressed and elevated for life's struggles.

It may be proved, with much certainty, that God intends no man to live in the world without working; but it seems to me not less evident that He intends every man to be happy in his work. It is written, "In the sweat of thy brow"—but it was never written, "in the breaking of thine heart" —"thou shalt eat bread. "And I find that as, on the one hand, infinite misery is caused by the idle people who both fail in doing what was appointed for them to do and set in motion various springs of mischief in matters in which they should have had no concern, so, on the other hand, no small misery is caused by overworked and unhappy people, in the dark views which they necessarily take upon themselves and force upon others, of work itself. Were it not so, I believe the fact of their being unhappy is in itself a violation of the divine law and a sign of some kind of folly or sin in their way of life. Now, in order that people may be happy in their work, these three things are needed: They must be fit for it; they must not do too much of it; and they must have a sense of success in it—not a doubtful sense, such as needs some testimony of other people for its confirmation, but a sure sense, or, rather, knowledge, that so much work has been done well, and faithfully done, whatever the world may say or think about it.

STILL ANOTHER APPEAL

Rev. E. B. Carr Calls For Further Church Funds.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Atkinson, N. C., Sept. 9.—Brethren, Paul said on one occasion to the Corinthians (II Cor. 5:7), "For we walk by faith, not by sight." It is to this point that we, the building committee of Atkinson Presbyterian church, have come in the matter of funds with which to build our church. The carpenters have been working all this week, what time it was not raining, and we settled up with them today, and after paying the carpenters and for a little material which we had not paid for, we haven't one cent of money in the treasury. So, brethren, it means that we are to walk by faith, for we certainly haven't any money in sight. We instructed the carpenters this evening, when they left, to come back and work next week, or at least a part of the week, and unless you good Presbyterians, and Methodist and Baptist, and all other Christian people, of whatever name or denomination, come to our rescue, and send us a little more of the Lord's money which He has intrusted you with, we will be forced to stop the work next week some time. I believe that some of you good people, as soon as you read this letter, will open up your hearts and your pocket books, and send us a little more money. Brethren, it will do you Christian people good to answer this call, so urgent and so needy: (1) It will ease your conscience, being conscious of the fact that you have done your duty. (2) It will make you feel good in after years, when the church is complete ,to know that you had a hand in this work. (3) It will make you feel at home, when you come to the house of the Lord to worship in it, knowing that you helped to build it. (4) God will not let you loose one penny by the operation, if you give it gladly and cheerfully.

Well, how much more money will it take to enclose the building? I verily believe that if we had $225 more, besides what has already been sent in, that we could enclose the building within the next month, and have it safe and secure from the weather. Of course this does not count the expense of painting, but just the wood work. This church has been framed up for over three years, exposed to all kinds of weather, and we believe that the time has come to build the house of the Lord. Let every reader herein worship God with his substance.

Well, what success have you had for the past week from the people who have been reading your letters through The Star, The Standard, The Democrat, and other good papers? Well, a friend from Washington, D C., sent me $5.00; a friend from Currie, N. C., sent me $15; a friend from Mooresville, N. C., sent me $1; a friend from Ivanhoe, N. C., sent me $2; a friend from Tamahawk, N. C., sent me $2; a friend from South Carolina, no name given, sent we $1, etc. Are there not other good people who will send me a contribution to this work at once to keep the good work going. Brethren, if you can't send me but fifty cents or a dollar, I will thank you for any amount you can give cheerfully. If you don't feel that you are able to give a large amount, why don't be ashamed to give a small amount. The Lord loves a cheerful giver, not necessarily the large givers, unless it can be given cheerfully. Oh, may God's spirit move a larger number of our good people to give to this work this coming week.

I want it plainly understood that I am not begging money to build the Lord's house with; for God says, "The silver and the gold is mine," saith the Lord, and he said it right in this connection, when the people said the time has not come to build the house of the Lord. Then the lord is not a beggar, God is not a pauper, the wealth of the world is the Lord's and we are His stewards, either a faithful steward or an unfaithful steward. God is at this very moment asking you, through His humble servant, to use some of His money, which He has intrusten you with, to build His house. Be a faithful steward of God's money.

Atkinson is moving up a little these later days. Mr. D. B. Johnson has just begun to build a fine house in Atkinson. They say it will be one which will be a credit to the town.

Mr. Glisson is collecting material for his house. The Atkinson High School began Monday, September 3rd. We are so glad that we have a good school and a good doctor in our town; now we want churches, good preachers and a people of the deepest Christian piety, a people whose chief aim and end in life, is to glorify God and to enjoy Him forever.

Send all money for the building of this church to Rev. E. B. Carr, Atkinson, N. C.

Yours very sincerely,
E. B. CARR.

Soft Water for Good Tea.

"New York water is too hard to make good tea," said the English matron. "The use of soft water is one secret of tea making that New York people seem never to have learned. Before we found that we could buy soft water bottled we softened the water for making tea with a pinch of soda."

Just Like That.

"I shall not permit you," he declared, "to trample on my love with impunity." "I shall not do it," she saucily replied, for she had just been invited to go to dinner with the son of a Pittsburgh millionaire. "When I trample on your love I shall do it with my feet."

The Man Who Works For You

PERHAPS at one time he was one of your most trusted employees, but now—he's unreliable—he drinks. And he has gone from bad to worse until you have finally decided to discharge him.

Now here is a business proposition. Drinking is a disease and requires scientific treatment. Four weeks of treatment at the Keeley Institute at Greensboro, N. C., will take away that man's appetite for liquor. It will make him the same man he was before he started drinking—it will restore his old time ability.

There is a distinctiveness about our treatment—there is a personality behind it that builds up the moral character of the patient. A personality that gives him new ideals and new ambitions. That's why the Keeley Institute at Greensboro, N. C., has been so eminently successful. The thousands of patients whom we have cured will attest that fact.

Don't hesitate. Send that man to us. It is a business investment—an investment that will save you the time, trouble and expense of training up a new man. Write to us to-day for our book. It will give you interesting data regarding the many absolute cures we have effected.

Original French Market Coffee
The Coffee With a History

The secret of the roasting process, and the blend, by which is produced the rare aroma and marvelous flavor of the French Market Coffee, was well kept for over a century.

Even today imitations are little like the original.

Few realize that French Market Coffee is roasted nearly twice as long as ordinary coffee.

Yet all its delightful properties are retained and intensified.

Harshness and bitterness are roasted out, leaving only the smoothness and aromatic flavor that is so delightful—so different from other coffees.

French Market Coffee

That is why French Market Coffee has always been the favorite midnight beverage of New Orleans society. Why it is the coffee with a history.

In France and Austria only are there coffees prepared with the same exquisite care that is characteristic of French Market Coffee. But nowhere in the world is there a duplicate of the Unique Hygienic Roasting Process used at the French Market Mills in the production of French Market Coffee.

Until the building of the French Market Mills, this historic coffee-blend could be had only at the French Market in New Orleans.

But NOW you all may enjoy it daily on your own tables. For genuine French Market Coffee is now delivered everywhere in hermetically-sealed tins—in all its full natural strength and delicious flavor.

"There is only one real old French Market flavor."

A TRIP TO BLEWETT FALLS

Magnificent Power Development Near Rockingham—Work Being Rushed to Completion—Transmission Lines Underway

(Col. H. C. Dockery in Rockingham Post.)

Through the kind invitation of Mr. Fred E. Schornstein of the Yadkin River Power Company and Carolina Power and Light Company, a party of Rockingham's manufacturers and business men left Rockingham at 11 A. M. Tuesday in automobiles for Blewett's Falls, as the guests of the Yadkin River Power Company, to view the company's plant and to see what great and rapid progress is being made in the work on this, the greatest developer of the rapid growing South.

In the party who enjoyed this trip were: Hon. W. N. Everett, mayor of Rockingham; Mr. J. P. Leak, president Midway Mills; Mr. W. C. Leak, president Pee Dee Mills Nos. 1 and 2; Mr. Robert L. Steele, president Steele's Mill; Mr. William Entwistle, president Entwistle mill; Mr. W. B. Cole, general manager of the Hannah Pickett and Entwistle Mills; Mr. George S. Steele, general superintendent Robeerdel Mill; Mr. W. L. Parsons, president Bank of Pee Dee; Mr. A. G. Corpening, proprietor Hotel Rockingham; Mr. M. L. Hinson, manufacturer and sheriff, Mr. Fred Schornstein and Mr. H C. Dockery.

Long before reaching the river the blasting was heard and upon arrival at the river the party crossed to the other side on the company's ferry, where the party was met by Mr. Fred W. Abbott, vice-president of the Yadkin River Power Company, who is in charge of this great work. Mr. Abbott had a very nice dinner prepared by two English cooks. He and Mr. Taylor, general superintendent of the construction work, sat donwn with the party to a feast fit for a king, and was universally enjoyed by all present. The menu is too long to menton, but contained everything from beefsteak pie to plum pudding. After dinner the party was conducted over the entire plant by Mr. Abbott and Mr. Schornstein. The amount of work done in the last three months on this plant was surprising. Everything is moving along rapidly, and particularly noticeable was the systematic way things move, without any confusion. Six hundred men are engaged in this great work, besides 300 men on the transmission lines between the power house and Raleigh, and 250 men on the transmission lines north of Raleigh. The huge concrete dam is 50 feet high, 57 feet wide at bottom, and 9 feet at the top; is about 1,500 feet long. The dam is about three-fourths finished, and men are busy building concrete forms and towers for cable way, with which to haul material. The dam will back water about 8 3-4 miles, covering about 1,500 acres of land the company owns, thus making a natural reserve and making it possible to navigate the river for 30 miles in a motor boat, it is said. The company will have a gas launch when the plant is in operation. Some Rockingham people are talking of a club house at this point. The power house is located about 1,500 feet from the dam and is built of steel, concrete and brick, is 285 feet high and 75 feet wide. About 1,500,000 brick will be used in this building, besides the great amount of concrete and steel. There are seven flumes 17 feet in diameter and two exciter flumes, which are all built into a concrete wall. The water wheels which are in and the generators, are at the plant on cars ready to be unloaded. A gravel and sand washer has been constructed, and the company does its own washing, thus avoiding any delays. A steam electric light plant is in operation and furnishes light, so that a night force can hurry along the work. The operation of the several huge concrete mixers, the cranes — handling the cars of concrete — and the steam shovel, were very interesting. The cranes and steam shovel do their work like a mighty human hand. Two locomotives with their train of cars are kept busy drawing to the dump the dirt, etc., taken from the tail race, which is about three-fourths complete.

To look across the river and along the path of huge steel towers, which are 70 feet high and which carry the transmission lines, in indeed a beautiful view. The towers on the line to Raleigh will all be up by September 20th and the lines all up and complete by October 20th. The transmission lines north of Raleigh are now nearly complete. Plans are ready to install a substation at Raleigh, of 10,000 horsepower capacity, and a substation at Henderson of 5,000 horsepower capacity. The minimum capacity of the Blewett Falls plant will be 32,000 horsepower. The Power Company has already accepted contracts for over 9,000 horsepower of this power. Besides the Blewett's Falls plant that company now owns and operates the plans at Buckhorn Falls, Milburnie, Raleigh, Henderson, Durham, Sanford, Jonesboro and Fayetteville.

The company has its own standard gauge railroad between Blewett Falls and Pe Dee, a distance of five miles, where it connects with the Seaboard Air Line Railroad.

It is a certainty that the South will make great strides in its industrial growth within the next ten years, and we in this section are very fortunate to have such a vast amount of power at our threshhold. The officers of this company include Col. Charles E. Johnson, president, and Mr. H. H. Carr, vice-president and general manager, both of Raleigh, and who are well known throughout the State and who are deserving of much credit for the successful promotion of the great undertaking which requires great sums of money, and which, coming to us at this particular time, will do more than all else to bring to us a good, healthy and substantial growth. To miss getting on the line would be a calamity. Rockingham's chamber of commerce should get out and boost so that Rockingham will get its share of prosperity and give the Power Company the full moral support which it deserves.

The party making the trip were greatly pleased at the opportunity to go to the plant with Mr. Schornstein and to be able to get familar with the work going on, and feel that the company is to be commended for its liberal attitude towards the public. Mr. Schornstein and family have only a few months ago become residents of our city, but his method of living, and his open, frank and honest expression has gained him many friends, whose best wishes he enjoys, and we hope that he and his good family will live with us always.

Everybody returned home at 6 P. M., to full of utterance, but perfectly sober, in their right mind, and declaring that no more delightful hosts than Messrs. Abbott and Taylor and Schornstein ever entertained a party.

Influence of Clothes.

Clothes have a most surprising influence on the mind. If you don't believe it, some day when you are tired or perhaps blue, or even cross, take a bath, put on something dainty and fresh from top to toe, and your best go-to-meeting gown, and you'll feel as if a fairy wand had suddenly touched you with some wonderful transforming power. You'll find yourself looking at the world through a rosy mist instead of clouds of dull gray. It will be easy to smile.—Suburban Life.

Triumph for Sandy.

Sandy and his master drove up to the small station as the train approached. "Here's yer train, sir," said Sandy. "That is not my train," replied the master, who had his own ideas about correct speech, "but it's the train I am going by." But it happened to be a special train and didn't stop at the station, whereupon Sandy exclaimed: "We're baith wrang, for it's neither your train nor the ane ye're gaun by, but it's the ane that's gane by you."

Satirist Not Popular.

There's a great temptation to say cutting things. They sound clever. People laugh at them. They're interesting. Nothing is so absorbingly interesting as scandal. But of all the bad habits a man may fall into this will alienate him most from his fellows. If you are going in for saying bitter and sharp things about people you'd best pick out a desert island at once and go there and live.

Valuable Man.

"I say," cried the business man to the detective, "some fellow has been representing himself as a collector of ours. He has been getting in more money than any two of the men we have, and I want him caught as quickly as you can." "Ah right. I'll have him in jail in less than a week." "Great Scott, man! I don't want to put him in jail. I want to engage him!"—Ideas.

To Reverse Woman.

The inexplicable, inherent and ineradicable habit of women of alighting backward from a car is expected by a Colorado trolley manager to be cured by the placing of mirrors on car doors so that the fair passengers will feel impelled to face forward to see if their hat is on straight before they alight. As a device for delaying traffic this will be a conspicuous success

For the Uncertain Little Diner.

Thin, white oiled paper spread under the child's plate at the table and extending a little way beyond will protect the tablecloth. This will not be noticeable, especially if it is bought in sheeting and the pieces are cut and laid smoothly on the cloth. When a piece of paper is soiled it may be thrown away or burned and a fresh piece substituted.

Firefly a Mystery.

The large West Indian firefly throws a light strong enough to enable a person to read newspaper print three inches away. The glow is without heat, and as yet the secret of the firefly is unexplained by science.

AFTER 7 YEARS SUFFERING

I Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Waurika, Okla.—"I had female troubles for seven years, was all run down, and so nervous I could not do anything. The doctors treated me for different things but did me no good. I got so bad that I could not sleep day or night. While in this condition I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and began its use and wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice. In a short time I had gained my average weight and am now strong and well."—Mrs. SALLIE STEVENS, R. F. D., No. 3, Box 31, Waurika, Okla.

Another Grateful Woman.

Huntington, Mass.—"I was in a nervous, run down condition and for three years could find no help.

"I owe my present good health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier which I believe saved my life.

"My doctor knows what helped me and does not say one word against it."—Mrs. MARI JANETTE BATES, Box 134, Huntington, Mass.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, and nervous prostration.

SUES FOR DAMAGED COTTON

Atlantic Coast Line is Called to Court by Maybank & Co.

Charleston, Sept. 8.—Suit has been filed in the office of the clerk of court, by the attorneys of Maybank & Co., of Charleston, against the Atlantic Coast Line, as defendant, for the sum of $1,114.22. The complaint states in full how the plaintiff company has shipped cotton over the railroad for a period of years, and how recently, cotton valued at the above amount was burned at Purvis, N. C., clearly through the negligence of the railroad employees, in placing it where sparks from passing engines could and did so easily ignite it. The plaintiff asks judgment in full for the value of the cotton burned, namely the above amount.

A Cheap Sinner.

Our one idea of a cheap sinner is one who loafs all the week and then goes fishing on Sunday.

Different.

His Papa—"Have some butter, Tommy?" Tommy (aged seven)—"But you always tell me butter isn't healthy." His Papa—"That's at home; you're at the hotel now; go as far as you like."

Greatest of Inland Seas.

The greatest inland sea is the Caspian sea, which is 700 miles long and 270 miles wide.

"ASK BILL"

The extravagant claims of manufacturers, the well prepared pleadings of salesmen and the glib promises of dealers are a poor foundation on which to base your selection of an automobile. The manufacturer, the dealer and the salesman, each and every one of them, is vitally interested in selling you a car.

You know that. So you read the advertisements, listen to the salesmen and the dealer, and then consult your friend Bill. It makes no difference with him whether you buy one car or another, so he tells you the truth. You know you can depend on what he says, and one word from him outweighs all that the others can say.

Bill is the only real salesman, after all. He is the man who knows; the man whose opinion is respected—the man who sells goods. He doesn't draw any salary, but we would rather have him advise a prospective customer than that one of our salaried salesmen should have every possible opportunity to present his claims. Because what Bill says goes.

Gibbes Machinery Co.,
Mr. R. G. McCreight, Mgr.,
Wilmington, N. C.

Gentlemen:

It affords me pleasure to submit to you the following as my experience as a "CHALMERS" owner. My car, a model "30" 1911 was delivered to me on the 10th of May, since which time my speedometer shows it has run 3,072, but I had driven the car some three hundred miles before the speedometer was put on, about ten days' driving, so in reality she has gone some 3,372. During this time, I have not had ONE CENT mechanical cost for any work done on the car, which I think speaks volumes for the car.

I have used, and these figures are taken from actual bills paid, to date:

218 Gallons of gas at ten cents per gallon	$21.80
10 Gallons and one quart of oil, 60 cents gallon	6.15
1 Gallon of Kerosene used in washing out clutch	.20
One recharge Prest-O-Lite gas tank	3.00
Cleaning exterior of engine	.50
Washing and polishing brass on car	5.00
For two punctures, vulcanizing outer and inner casing	7.00
	$43.65

This last item includes little glass cuts on shoes.

Thus you will see I have had three months and a half use of the car for a cost of about $12.50 a month, and have averaged about 1,000 miles a month. The thing that most appeals to me as a "Chalmers" owner is the "Chalmers Service," this one item, knowing that you have some one that is taking a personal interest in your car is worth to any car owner more than he can figure in dollars and cents. From my personal experience, I unhesitatingly say if any one intending to buy a car will but take the trouble to investigate the "CHALMERS" before making his purchase, he can very easily convince himself what car to buy, and after making his purchase he will have no cause for regret. Buy a "Chalmers," and you will know what the pleasure of owning a good car means. Very sincerely,

W. A. FRENCH.
